Greeks praised for 'phonathon'

The results of Elon's first national "Phonathon" have been "extremely successful," says William Ginn, associate director of Development, coordinator of Parent and Alumni Relations and director of the "Phonathon."

Sororities, fraternities and the Daytrippers have volunteered to man the 25 phones Monday through Thursday for 12 nights. They are calling parents, alumni and friends of the college to secure gifts for the annual fund.

The money raised will help Elon meet its promise to continue its excellent programs for those in attendance now and for students attending in the future.

ZTA started off the first night and Tri Sig followed the second night. Other participants are Alpha Sigma Alpha, Kappa Sig, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Phi, TKE, Phi Mu, and the Daytrippers.

"I would like to thank the group for its enthusiasm and dedication in handling the 'phonathon.' They are making from 650-850 calls a night, and we are pleased with all the results," said Mr. Ginn. "We have been very successful and I'm sure the success will continue, throughout the duration of the 'Phonathon.'"

SGA reports on trustee meetings

by Keith Nelson

A revised Student Government Association budget was approved last week. President Bryant Colson, Vice President King White, and Treasurer John Reaves told the Senate about meetings with various committees of the Board of Trustees. Lori Arrington was sworn into office as the new freshman senator. On a request by the Athletics Department, a bill to appropriate $750 for a "Fighting Christian" mascot outfit was placed in the finance committee.

Jeannie Hairston accepted the resolution for Coach Mary Jackson that honored Ms. Jackson as the CIAC Coach of the Year. Greg Dowson accepted a similar resolution for Coach Bill Morningstar who received the same honor as CIAC Coach of the Year.

President Colson met with the Campus Life Committee last Wednesday and gave a State of the SGA address. In it he told of vandalism and asked for a security system that could insure security. Colson reported what Thad Eure had said about the SGA. "Mr. Eure said he'd like to see Elon in the State Student Legislature. I told him that the United States Student Association and the State Organization are very similar. Elon was a member some years back", said Colson.

"Minority students don't have enough professors to identify with. There is only one black professor," said Colson. He went on to say that students need to identify with a faculty member. Colson reported that the committee liked the idea of more minority professors.

Mexican course planned

A student trip to Mexico will offer six hours of credit in Spanish for the three and one half week study tour, May 22 to June 16.

The study will take place at the Cuernavaca Center for bi-cultural and multilingual studies. Small-group language study will feature native Mexican teachers. Excursions, fiestas and social gatherings are planned, according to Kathleen Scott, Elon language instructor and leader of the study tour.

Room and board will be with a Mexican family, allowing the student to test his Spanish and gaining him exposure to Mexican culture. The Spanish instructor from Elon will travel with the students.

Round-trip airfare from Greensboro to Mexico City, school-related activities in Cuernavaca, room and board, and Elon fees and tuition are included in the trip cost of $912.

All interested students should contact Mrs. Scott for application forms. Deadline is April 15, and a $50 deposit is required.

Newsbriefs

Students who wish to drop a course may receive a WP through tomorrow. After Friday, students will receive a WF. Students who are failing a course will receive a WF regardless of the time at which the course is dropped.

Withdrawing with a WP will not count against the student. No credit for the course will be given for a WP.

Drop forms may be picked up at the registrar's office. Forms should be signed by the adviser and the course instructor and returned to the registrar's office.

The Business Student's Communication Committee will give a coffee for the students and Business Department faculty on Thursday, March 20, from 9 to 10 a.m. in the Long Student Center Lounge.
