

Fall options offered in Spring

Students interested in English-Journalism as a major and communications as a minor will have two courses as spring semester options which are usually scheduled for the fall.

Com. 426, Advanced Editing and Editorial Writing will be taught on Tuesdays and Thursdays for three semester hours credit at 11:40 a.m. The course emphasizes editing copy for newspapers, writing headlines, and writing editorials and other opinion articles for dailies and weeklies. Prerequisites are Com. 225, 325 and proficiency in grammar and typing. Bob Nowell will teach the course.

Homecoming candidates

cont. from p. 1

Woodle from the senior class.

Students may vote for their choice for queen in the lobby of Long Student Center from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. today, and Friday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Voting will also be at Harper Center from 3:30 - 6:30 p.m. Results of the voting will be announced and the queen crowned during halftime during Saturday's Homecoming game against Winston-Salem State University.

Correction

Due to a reporter's error, the Pendulum on Nov. 5 incorrectly reported that John Prine's Nov. 11 concert at Elon would be on Nov. 12. The Pendulum regrets any inconvenience that its error may have caused persons who wished to attend the concert.

Fall tour

cont. from p. 4

5.7 miles to the yield sign (a lumber yard is on the right) and turn left, following the Bellemont-Mt. Herman Road for 3.6 miles to NC 49. At NC 49, turn right to return to I-85, or turn left for a drive to Cedarock Park, or go straight to pick up NC 62 and take a trip to Alamance Battleground.

In addition, Com. 373-A, Writing and Editing for Business and Industry (and the non-profit organization) will be offered again on Thursday evenings at 7.

This course concentrates on planning, writing and editing the employee publication for corporations as well as publications for non-profit organizations such as the United Way and the American Red Cross. Because business communicators often must be responsible for additional print media, part of the course work covers the production of brochures, annual reports for employees, and special newsletters.

Speakers and panelists from the Business Department, from industries and non-profit agencies visit the class to bring current ideas and practice to the students. All class members work on a publication during the term and create a complete mock-up of a publication for the final examination. Dr. Mary E. Priestley teaches the course.

Registrar's Report

An "I" grade signifies incomplete work because of illness, emergency, extreme hardship, or self-paced courses. It is not given for a student missing the final examination unless excused by the dean of academic affairs upon communication from the student. The student receiving a grade of "I" completes all work no later than nine class days after mid-semester grades are due in the following semester. A final grade is submitted to the registrar by the instructor the following Monday. After this date, the "I" grade automatically changes to "F" unless an extension is granted by the dean of academic affairs.

The college reserves the right to cancel or discontinue any course because of small enrollment or for other reasons deemed necessary. In order to assure quality instruction, the college reserves the right to close registration when the maximum enrollment has been reached. The college reserves the right to make changes in schedule and/or faculty when necessary.

"We're not just playing the opposing teams this season. We're also playing their fans. We need your help."

"When we go up against the opponents on our 1981-82 schedule, we'd like to have a 'Sixth Man' on our team in good support from the Elon Student Body. We need every student and faculty member to join us in Alumni Gym at game time and identify with Elon basketball.

"The members of the basketball team are your roommates, your class mates, your dorm neighbors and your students who represent each one of you while on the court. Knowing you are behind them, cheering them on, makes a big difference.

Bill Morningstar

Head Basketball Coach

Elon College

"We challenge you to become a member of the team — the Sixth Man. We need your help and we're not too proud to ask for it. And we will do our best to make you proud that you identify with us."

ELON BASKETBALL — "We've Got A Good Thing Going"

Season Opener November 16, 7:30 p.m. vs Mars Hill

WANTED:

Advertising Manager

20% commission

Pendulum

Contact:

Richard Anderson
584-2331