

Newsbriefs

Human Services Majors

The deadline for applying for the practicum (Summer, 1983) and/or the internship (Fall, 1983) is Wednesday, be obtained from any member of the human services department and should be returned to Dr. Howard Higgs, Mooney 203.

Dropping Courses

In the fall and spring semesters, no student may drop a course with a passing grade after the weekday before mid-semester reports are due; however, a course dropped with official permission of the registrar prior to the time mid-semester grades are due will be graded WP (passing at the time of withdrawal) or WF (failing at the time of withdrawal). A course dropped without official permission of the Registrar is automatically graded WF. In accordance with this policy, the last day a student may receive a WP grade for the Spring Semester is Friday, March 18.

ZTA Pledges

The sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority would like to announce and congratulate their new pledges. They are: Callia Bowling, Michele Clayton, Susan Dorman, Deborah Drummond, Cynthia Frick, Brenda Garman, Beth Gallo, Barbie Hess, Ann Marie Jividen, Karen Jones, Meredith Lee, Deana McCain, Margaret Marchisello, Ellen Renfro, Sue Ruch, Susan Waff, and Tonya Walker.

Recital

Elaine Bingenheimer and Paulette Glenn will present a faculty recital Sunday, March 27, at 5 p.m. in Whitley Auditorium.

Mexico City Trip

The deadline for enrolling in Elon's summer school program in Mexico City is April 29. The four-week program runs from May 30 to June 30 and carries 6 semester hours credit. The cost of the program is $1,500, which includes round-trip air fare from Greensboro, room and board in Mexico City, and tuition. For further details contact Dr. E.J. Lunsford, Carlton 201-C, Ext. 267.

Elon whips Pembroke 21-12

Elon beat Pembroke at Pembroke Tuesday in a high-scoring marathon that upped the Christians' record to 3-5. Elon got 25 hits in the 21-12 victory. The Christians' John Driscoll picked up the win, while Frank Manship, Bernle Crump, Ken Comer and David Osteen all hit homeruns.

Pembroke hit four homeruns in the game. In the ninth inning, the Indians made a run at the Christians, but their five ninth-inning runs fell short.

The Christians games against Bloomsburg State College and Kutztown State College that were scheduled for last weekend were cancelled due to inclement weather. Photo by Ron Kruppa.

The Christians play Campbell here today at 3 p.m.

Irish day: 'one big shindig'

by Carol Nix
Staff Writer

Today? A holiday?!

That may be the reaction of many when they are reminded that today is St. Patrick's Day, but for those with Irish blood, it is a time for celebration and family get-togethers. The "wearing of the green" is a popular custom even for those who aren't Irish, like sophomore Beth Temple from Winston-Salem, N.C. "I plan to wear green just so I won't get pinched to death!" she said.

There are quite a few Irish people in campus here at Elon. For these students, today is an occasion to celebrate by wearing green, which is symbolic of the Irish four-leaf clover. Freshman Jim Hallihan, who lives near Washington, D.C., describes

St. Patrick's Day as "one big shindig." He and his full-blooded Irish family always get together for the holiday and celebrate their heritage. "Everybody dances while my uncle plays the bagpipes," he said. "We all wear a lot of green and drink a lot of green beer."

Another Washington, D.C. student, who is a true-to-heart Irishman, says that on St. Patrick's Day her sisters and brothers give flowers and gifts to her mother. "We eat corn beef and cabbage and drink Irish whiskey," she said. "Then we go to the bars in Georgetown."

The commemoration of St. Patrick, patron saint of Ireland, is an event that the Irish look forward to each year. And why not! Seeing the Irish celebrating the "Irish way," is enough to make anybody who is not Irish "green with envy."

Pat story?

Follow clues, win $50 prize in Easter hunt

by Nancy C. Cale

Want to win an easy $50? Starting Monday, March 28, and running through Friday, April 1, the Student Union Board Special Events Committee will be having the Great Easter Egg Hunt. An egg will be hidden somewhere on main campus, and clues to the location will be provided. The egg will contain a certificate to be redeemed at the SUB office. The clues will be posted by 12 noon each day in the glass covered bulletin board on the wall of the Student Center Lobby. The contest is open to all Elon College students. Maxine Hazel, chairperson of the Special Events Committee, is very excited and said she hopes this will help "add to the Easter tradition."

The Lighthouse Tavern

HAPPY HOUR
Every Afternoon

St. Patrick's
Day Special

50¢ can beer

FREE draft for girls wearing green 9-11 p.m.

Check Our
Daily Specials

Student Union Board

presents another

"Open Mike Night"

Tuesday, April 5
7:30 - 10:30 p.m.

Varsity Grill

Acoustic and Piano talent acts are welcome!

Sign up- NOW in SUB office—209

Long—Sign ups will be held until April 1st.

