

Wrestling season starts slowly; new coach hopes for improvement

The Elon College Fightin' Christian wrestling team, under the direction of first-year coach Jim Richardson, has not begun the way he would like it to, but the wrestlers have plenty of time to make a comeback.

The grapplers lost two matches last Monday against Pembroke State University, 42-12, and against Hiram College, 42-9. On Nov. 29 the team was defeated by Livingstone College which now makes their record 0-3. The team's next match will be on Jan. 11 at home against Davidson College.

Last year's squad under the direction of Mike Cox finished the year with a 6-6-2 record. Right now the club is missing the high performance of Jay Lineberry, who is not eligible until February.

Lineberry, a Southern Alamance graduate, wrestles in the 126-pound class and last year was third in the NAIA nationals in his class and he is also a two-time All-American.

Also returning for the Fightin' Christians is Jimmy Ambrose, 118, a South Carolina state champion in high school;

Jeff May, 142, another former Southern Alamance state champ; Johnny Travis, 190, whom Richardson expects to contribute heavily to Elon's cause this year.

Newcomers to the team are Ken Griffin, 126, of Reidsville; Windy McCoy, 150, of Chesapeake, Va.; Ron Dudd, 158, of Woodbridge, N.J.; Tim Holmes, 177, of Durham; and Jay Gross, heavyweight, of Woodbridge also.

The squad's matches are held in the East Gym and the one Jan. 11 will begin at 4 p.m.

Several students had special requests in mind for Santa. Ken Ference, a sophomore, said, "I want clothes, a tape deck for my new car, cassettes, gift certificates for McDonald's and a pair of tight Calvin Klein jeans."

Mary Alston, a junior, said that she wanted happiness. "I want to be as happy as I am today, tomorrow and always," she said. Danny Sprinkle, a senior, said that he wanted Naola Fearington in a new sleeping bag. Cathy Woodson, a freshman, said, "I want a red Mustang with a white stripe along the side, complete with a handsome man inside of it. I'd also like a kitten, any kind that is very fluffy."

Ann Hester, a sophomore, really isn't in a gift-giving or receiving spirit this year. She said, "There really isn't anything that I want in particular. I'm just looking forward to going home, and being with my family."

Linda Feggans, a senior, is a first sergeant in ROTC. She said, "For Christmas, I want to be all that I can be, because they need me in the Army!"
