Oliver writes book

Dr. E. Eugene Oliver, associate professor of accounting at Elon College, has written an accounting text book that has been accepted for publication by Prentice-Hall, Inc.

The book is titled Cost Accounting: A Practical Approach and is designed for a one-semester course for undergraduate accounting and business majors.

The book, at 300-plus pages, will be shorter than the majority of cost accounting textbooks but will include the major concepts and techniques presented in a straight-forward manner. The book also can be used as a training guide in industry. The book will be published in the spring of 1986.

Oliver has 18 years of experience in industry, including stints with Kaiser Aluminum, Brunswick Corp. and Celanese Corp. among others. He has 12 years teaching experience and has been on the Elon faculty since 1981. He obtained his bachelor's and master's from George Washington University and his doctorate from University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Orientation counselors needed for fall program

By Vicky Jiggetts
Student Affairs Editor

As this semester progresses, plans are being made for next fall's freshman class. Dottie Souder, area co-ordinator in the New Area, is helping to coordinate the new student orientation. She said that approximately 45 orientation counselors are needed, and she is hoping that several interested students will apply for the position.

Souder said that there are many advantages to being an orientation counselor. "They get to come back to school early, and they get to know the other orientation counselors," she said. "It gives you great leadership opportunities because you will be assigned to a group of students and you will be a role model for them."

When the counselors return to school early, their housing and food will be provided for them free of charge until school officially begins.

Once the new students have settled in their residence halls, they will be contacted by their counselors on different occasions during the year. Souder said, "We're looking at expanding the orientation program, so that you can act as a resource and friend throughout the year."

During those days before the freshman arrive, there will be training sessions to prepare students as orientation counselors. Souder said, "This will be good for your resume, and it will show that you have had a leadership role on campus. It will also give you experience, recognition and contact with administrators as well as preparing you for a Resident Assistant position in the future. It's a good way to make a contribution to Elon, have fun, and get to know other people. You'll get to meet the R.A.'s and get some interaction with them."

She said that the skills that orientation counselors receive can be used in all majors "public relation skills, communication, leadership and service to the college" are positive skills in any area. Souder added, "it's intrinsically rewarding to help freshmen who are nervous about making the transition from home to college."

There will be a meeting for all interested students on Thursday, March 14 at 4 p.m. in the Large Lounge of Long Student Center. If students have questions they may call Dottie Souder at 584-2457.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS FROM FRIENDS TO FRIENDS.

"Are you OK to drive?"
"What's a few beers?"

"Did you have too much to drink?"
"I'm perfectly fine."

"Are you in any shape to drive?"
"I've never felt better."

"I think you've had a few too many"
"You kiddin', I can drive with my eyes closed."

"You've had too much to drink, let me drive."
"Nobody drives my car but me."

"Are you OK to drive?"
"What's a few beers?"
