

The Pendulum

Thursday April 3, 1985
Volume XI, Number 23

No phone deposit fee to be charged next year

By Loretta Bivins
Staff Writer

Students planning to live on campus next year will find some pleasant changes with the phone system.

Currently, students pay $25 to have their phone connected and a $50 deposit on their account. If the bill is not paid on time, the money is then taken from the deposit fee. Next year, however, there will be no deposit fee, and students will not be charged to be connected to the campus phone system.

According to Buck Bayliff, auxiliary service director for Elon, when students arrive next fall, they will be able to plug a phone into the outlet and will immediately be able to call other students living on campus, members of the faculty and administration.

A connection fee of $10 will give students access outside of campus; that is, they will be able to make calls outside of the 538-numbers.

If the phone bill is not paid within 10 days of receiving it, the phone will be cut off and there will be a charge of $25 to regain service, Bayliff said.

"Students who pay promptly can build up a credit reference with us," Bayliff said. "They can use Elon Telecom as a reference."

Elon will be providing telephones that can be purchased or rented, or students can bring one from home.

There will also be a change in next April's phone bill for students who are currently using Elon's phone system.

Chaplain Installed

Photo by Ann Cralidis

Richard McBride, who joined the Elon staff last fall, was officially installed as college chaplain at the annual Spring Worship Service on March 26. President Fred Young (right) presided at the service in Whitley Auditorium. Rev. W.W. Finlator of Raleigh preached on the place of religious life in an academic setting.

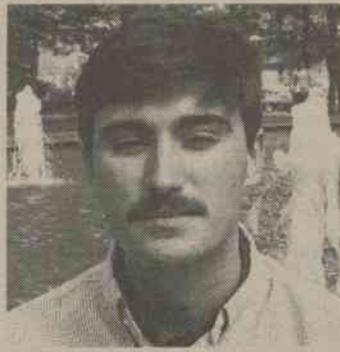

New media leaders selected for 1985-86

By Vicky Jiggetts
Student Affairs Editor

Jane Kidwell

journalism, said that she would like to "get more of a people section" in The Pendulum. "I think

Lee Paul Wallace

that will get more students interested in the newspaper. Students like to read about people they know," said Kidwell. She wrote for the Peace Times while attending Peace College, and this is her first year writing for The Pendulum. She said, "I've been working this semester for The Pendulum doing a little bit of everything."

Betsy Phillips

Kidwell said that most of the present staff will be graduating at the end of the semester. "We will have to train practically a whole new staff. I'm looking forward to working with new people, and I think we have a lot of potential for a staff," said Kidwell.

See Media page 7

INSIDE

'Theatrical miracle' Godspell comes to Elon

p. 5

Baseball team on a tear

p. 6