Because of the limited seating capacity of Whitley Auditorium, admission to the North Carolina Shakespeare Festival's production of The Taming of the Shrew will be by "ticket." Tickets are being distributed on a "first-come - first serve" basis and are now available in Alamance 109.

Mark Deaton will perform with Roy White in a Comedy and Music Show on Tuesday, September 24 on the Patio of Long Student Center.

The Elon College Lyceum is proud to present the North Carolina Shakespeare Festival's touring production of The Taming of the Shrew—Shakespeare's classic comedy on the battle of the sexes. Petruchio tames his shrewish Kate with wit, kindness, and humour in this intricate and fast paced double love story. The Taming of the Shrew will be presented in Whitley Auditorium on Wednesday at 8 p.m. Free tickets for students and staff are still available in Alamance 109.
