Graduate and Professional School Day

Elon students will again participate in the Graduate and Professional School Day at UNC-Greensboro. Students can meet many graduate and professional school representatives to receive the latest information on schools and admission requirements. Location: cone Ballroom, UNC-G, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Wednesday. More information is available in Career Planning Office, Alamance 101.

Pre-Majors Seminar

A seminar for pre-majors will begin Oct. 22 and continue through Dec. 3. By the end of the course each student will have selected realistic career options and chosen an appropriate major. More information available in Alamance 101, Career Planning Office. One hour academic credit will be given for participation. Registrants must be freshmen or sophomores, who have not declared a major.

Elon Receives Award

Elon College officials have announced a scholarship award from Aetna Life and Casualty Foundation. The $4,000 grant will be used as aid for minority students.

The Aetna Life and Casualty Foundation has been awarding scholarships to the college since 1983. "The college is very grateful for the scholarship grant," said Dr. Jo Watts Williams, vice president for development at Elon. "We are especially pleased that the grant will be used for minority students."

Sorority Fall Rush

All eligible females who are participating in Fall Rush should contact Bonnie Finn, head Rush counselor, if they have any questions or concerns. Bonnie's address is College Manor Apt. 4 and 584-3467. If she is not available, contact Panhellenic advisor David Atkins in Long 210, ext. 2330.

Parents

Showcase could be due to the wide variety of talents to be performed. Scheduled to appear are a Dixieland quartet, a jazz quintet, Dr. Arlene Goter on piano, and various singers. Most of the groups consist of faculty and students, Long said.

At "The fifth quarter" social, the Nomads will perform a variety of music. Brown bagging will be permitted for those who are 21 or over. All students must be accompanied by an adult. Hor d'oeuvres and set ups will be provided.

A change from last year is Saturday's "Meet the Faculty" activity, which will be divided into two groups. This done to cut down on the overcrowding in the library and to make the whole function run more smoothly, Long said.

Parents whose last names run from N to Z will visit with the faculty in various parts of the library first; then the parents with last names from A to M will have their chance to chat with their children's professors. Hopefully, dividing into two groups will allow parents and students time to talk with the 179 faculty members expected to attend, Long said.

QUESTION #2.

HOW CAN THE BUDGET-CONSCIOUS COLLEGE STUDENT SAVE MONEY?

- Save over 50% off AT&T's weekday rates on out-of-state calls during nights and weekends.
- Don't buy textbooks when "Monarch Notes" will do just fine.
- Save 40% off AT&T's weekday rate on out-of-state calls during evenings.
- Count on AT&T for exceptional value and high quality service.
- Hang around with the richest kids in school; let them pick up the tab whenever possible.

If you're like most college students in the western hemisphere, you try to make your money go a long way. That's why you should know that AT&T Long Distance Service is the right choice for you.

* AT&T offers so many terrific values. For example, you can save over 50% off AT&T's day rate on calls during weekends to 8 am, until 5 pm Sunday, and from 11 pm Sunday through Friday.
