Saltwater music: Del Suggs will perform tonight, 8:00 in the Backdoor

Recording Artist

Del Suggs to perform tonight

Del Suggs, popular singer and songwriter, will bring his guitar to campus to perform tonight at 7 pm at The Backdoor.

Suggs, one of Florida's premier performers will be coming to Elon College. He is one of the most popular performers on the college circuit, and he plays before standing-room-only crowds throughout the Southeast.

A Florida native, Suggs performs his own unique style, which he calls "Saltwater Music."

Drawing on his north Florida roots and gulfstream upbringing, Del Suggs has become one of the most popular performers on the college circuit.

His new album, Wooden Boat, has just been released on Key Porpoise Records, and it contains his most popular new material. His last album, Saltwater Music, has been compared to the best works of James Taylor, Jimmy Buffett and Paul Simon by the critics.

It has received extensive national airplay after being endorsed by the National Federation of Community Broadcasters in Washington, DC.

The album has sold thousands across America and as far away as Japan and New Zealand. Del is also a featured artist on the double album Steve Meisburg and Friends: In Concert.

A performance by Del Suggs is a reflection of life—partly hilarious, partly serious, partly bittersweet—but always upbeat. Del is an engaging, caring, positive performer.

He believes that life can be enriched by giving, and proves it through both his performances and his involvement with numerous environmental, charity, public service and civil liberty groups. His integrity and concern have won him the respect of his peers in performing and student activities programming.

Del tours exclusively on the college circuit, and performs in concert at over 75 schools a year. He has shared the stage with such notables as Garrison Keillor (Of Prairie Home Companion), The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, Mac McAnally, Tim Weisberg, Gamble Rogers, Steve Meisburg, Jerry Clower, Pierce Pettis, and many others.

Del has been recognized with endorsement agreements with Ovation Guitars and Peavey Electronics. These fine companies provide him with outstanding guitars and sound equipment for tour support.

Del Suggs has the deepest respect for his audience. He is flexible enough to perform for nearly any audience—young or old, large or small, inside or outdoors. A seasoned professional, he is equally at home on stage, in a small coffeehouse or in a concert hall. He is comfortable with himself, and puts his audience at ease.

Spencer magic show

The Student Union Board sponsored the illusions and magic of Kevin Spencer last night, when Spencer and his wife performed in the Fine Arts Theatre for an enthusiastic crowd.

The Spencer's were dynamic performers whose original presentation of large scale illusions and audience participation magic pleased the college and community audience.

Spencer put on a stage show which was a unique 90 minute program that left you baffled and amazed. It featured large grand illusion like the incredible Metamorphosis — performed like you have never seen before.

Auditions for Tintypes to be held

On September 12 and 13, auditions will be held at Elon College for the musical comedy "Tintypes". The audition times on Monday, Sept. 12, will be 4:30 to 7:00 p.m. and on Tuesday, Sept. 13, from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. in the Yeager Recital Hall of the Fine Arts Building.

Members of the college community are invited to audition for the five singing parts: two men to play the roles of Roosevelt- and Chaplin-style characters and three women to fill roles as an actress, social reformer and minority laborer.

The audition will consist of reading and musical performance. Auditioners should be prepared to perform measures of a musical piece of their own choice or music will be provided. Script materials will also be provided.

The play will be presented Friday and Saturday, November 11 and 12 at 8:00 p.m. in the Fine Arts Theatre. The musical will be directed by Fred Rubeck, a fine arts faculty member in drama who has spent the last two years with the Nebraska Theatre Caravan as director, manager and performer. Among the more than 10 shows he has directed are "Oklahoma", "Harvey", and "DO! I Do!"
