The Connells are coming with "One Simple Word"

S.U.B. and Student Activities will present The Connells in concert Sunday, Apr. 7 at 8 p.m. in Alumni Gym.

Based in Raleigh, a breeding ground for classic pop rock, the fivesome began playing music in 1984 when guitarist Mike Connell asked his younger brother David, a bass player to help start a band. Soon to follow were lead vocalist

Doug McMillan; drummer, Peele Wimberley; and guitar, keyboards and vocals, George Huntley.

Since then, The Connells have emerged as one of the south's favorite rock bands.

The Connells' sound is multidimensional and full of life. Presently they are on tour with their newest and fourth LP, One Simple Word. Their original songs are known for their well thought out and intelligent lyrics.

Some of these songs include "Stone Cold Yesterday", "Speak to Me", and "Waiting My Turn". Mike and George are the primary lyricists and composers of The Connells' unique and powerful guitar-driven pop, found in these songs.

The Connell tickets are not available yet. When available, they may be purchased for $5 per Elon College I.D. in advance; $10 in advance for off-campus sales; and $12 at the door for everyone.

Major changes curriculum

Changes have been made in the graduation requirements for all students majoring in Business Administration.

Dean of the Love School of Business, Thomas Tiemann, said most courses in accounting, business administration and economics will change from three semester hours to four semester hours of credit. These changes will be effective as of Fall 1991.

Tiemann said business students are said to be lacking in analytical, problem solving and communication skills. "This is a weakness in all Business schools," Tiemann said.
