

THIS WEEK AT ELON

Friday

■ N.C. Career Development Association Spring Conference, Student Center Large Lounge, 8:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. "Career Development: Something for All." For more information, contact Rebecca Highsmith, ext. 2538.

Sunday

■ Gallery Opening: Oils, Acrylics, and Water Colors by Renny Johnson. See brief page 8.

■ Catholic Mass, Newman Society, Large Lounge Long Student Center, 6:30 p.m.

Monday

■ ATTENTION: An International Festival At Elon, scheduled for Whitely Auditorium has been CANCELLED.

Tuesday

■ College Chapel, Richard McBride, Whitely, 9:30 a.m.-10 a.m.

■ The Elon College Jazz Ensemble, Fine Arts Theater, 8 p.m.

Wednesday

■ Myrna Bower, Director of the Graduate Office and Rhonda Mitchell Graduate school Registrar at UNC-Chapel Hill, Career Planning Placement Center, 9 a.m.-1 p.m. They will talk with students interested in attending graduate school at UNC-Chapel Hill. Call ext. 2538 for an appointment.

■ Baptist Student Union, Join the B.S.U. for a home cooked lunch and Bible Study, Jordan Center, 12 p.m.

■ Deadheads: An American Subculture, Yeager Recital Hall, 3:30 p.m. This video will provide background for the evening lecture by Rebecca Adams.

■ Rebecca Adams: "The Deadhead Phenomenon: A Sociological Approach", Fine Arts Theater, 7:30 p.m.

Thursday

■ College Coffee, Biscuits w/honey butter, Scott Plaza, 9:30-10 a.m.

■ "Meeting of the Minds", Whitely Auditorium, 7:30 p.m. Elon College Students will present dance, drama, and music related to topics in the humanities. Sponsored by the Department of Religion.

Camp breaks Christian music stereotype

DeeDee Carowan
The Pendulum

Elon College will host an outdoor concert by one of contemporary Christian music's top performers, Steve Camp, Thursday, April 18, at 9 p.m. in the Alamance Courtyard.

The concert, sponsored by Elon Intersivity Christian Fellowship and Religious Life Committee, is free and open to the public.

"We hope to break the typical stereotypes of Christian music and, at the same time, have a positive impact on the campus," said Cathy Bell, president of Elon's IVCF.

Camp, a Grammy nominee, has released nine chart-topping albums and has received many awards for his songs. His new album, Justice, features the talents of members of James Taylor's backup group as well as string arrangements by Elton John's orchestrator, Paul Buckmaster.

According to Camp, "the new album is to encourage people to move away from their normal American Christianity and to see what they believe affect people right in their own neighborhoods."

Camp attempts to practice what he preaches through his efforts for world hunger and AIDS. As a spokesman for Compassion International, he arranged a multi-artist recording of his song "Do Something Now," raising thousands of dollars to fight world hunger.

Camp also recently set up AIDS Crisis and Christians Today, an organization supporting AIDS education and local ministries to AIDS patients.

"Many don't realize contemporary Christian music has come a long way since the days of choirs and amateurish productions," Camp said. At Elon's first contemporary Christian concert, Steve Camp hopes to prove that today's Christian music goes far beyond "Amazing Grace."

Steve Camp

Donations will be accepted to offset the cost of the performance. For more information, please call Chaplain Richard McBride at 584-2409.

Panel discussion to be held

A panel discussion on "Cultural Diversity and the Professional in Education, Psychology and Human Service," will be held Thursday, Apr. 18 in Yeager Recital Hall at 7:30 p.m. The panel will focus on issues concerning Black, Hispanic and Japanese groups as well as recent immigrants to the U.S. For more information, call Betty Maness at 584-2360 or Dr. Seena Granowsky at 584-2358.

Students evaluate advising

Undergraduate students are being asked to evaluate the advising program. These evaluations will be important in assessing the strengths and weaknesses of the program.

The evaluations are in the fall semester 1991 schedule. Students must turn in the completed forms with their preregistration forms during preregistration, Apr. 17-23.

The Advising Center will appreciate serious efforts of the students in this evaluation process. Additional forms are available in the Advising Center, Alamance 101.

Briefs

Elon hosts soviet citizens

As part of the Bridges for Peace citizen exchange, Elon will again host six soviet citizens from the Republic of Georgia. The visitors will arrive Apr. 8 and stay until Apr. 10. They will stay with Elon faculty members and will be invited to speak in classes during their stay.

The visitors are: Zaza Daraseli, a journalist; Georgi Ahgenti, a sculptor; Lasha Gaparashvili, a textile engineer; and Vadhtang Rcheoulshvili, a member of the Peace Committee.

For more information please call Dr. Bill Rich at 584-2224 or Dr. Carole Chase at 584-2350.

Conference held at Elon

Elon will host the 1991 state conference of the North Carolina Association of Foreign Student Advisors (NCAFSA) Apr. 19. Registration is required to attend. Sixteen presentations are scheduled for four concurrent sessions. For more information, contact Dr. Bill Rich at 584-2224, Chaplain Richard McBride at 584-2409 or Ms. Alice Essen at 584-2474.

Alumnus presents artwork

Elon College Alumnus, Renny Johnson, Elon College Class of 1970, will present an exhibit of his artwork in the Isabella Cannon Room Sunday, Apr. 14. The opening will be held from 2-5 p.m. and will continue through May 20.

Johnson is a self-taught artist. The Elon exhibit will feature works in oils, acrylics and watercolors.

Elon hosts math contest

Elon will host the Region Five High School Mathematics Contest on April 13. The competition will involve approximately 100 top math students from 20 schools in 11 nearby counties.

The contest is sponsored by the Mathematics Section of the State Department of Public Instruction and the North Carolina Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

The Elon mathematics faculty will administer and grade the test on the same day. The top 6 percent will be named winners in an afternoon awards ceremony. Winners will move on to the state competition on April 25 at the North Carolina School of Science and Math in Durham.