made known at the time of the trial?

5) L. Fletcher Prouty, a former aide to the Joint Chiefs of Staff and an advisor to the movie JFK, suggests that there wasn't enough secret service in the area. Also while in New Zealand, Prouty read in a newspaper about the suspect, Oswald, four hours prior to his arrest. Was this true and if so, how would the paper know about Oswald before his arrest?

It is important for people to question what really happened in Dallas, to not just believe one source but to search and ask questions. Oliver Stone and Jim Garrison are not the authority by any means. However, they have raised awareness which is very important.

I hope that many of my questions will be considered and that the students here at Elon will also bring their thoughts and feelings to the discussion.

I hope that Oliver Stone is satisfied with the interest that he developed in young adults such as myself.

If that was his goal, he has succeeded.

Preyer: I don't think the lone nut killer fits the pattern of wanting publicity for it.

Pendulum: If your committee found that Oswald was not acting alone, how do you still support a lone nut theory?

Preyer: There could be another lone nut, too. You don't have to have a conspiracy with the Mafia or the FBI or somebody.

George Blakey [also on the Committee] incidentally thinks that the assassination was inspired by the mafia. Not organized crime as a group, but individual mafia members operating out of Reno. And there's a lot of strange evidence linking Jack Ruby to mafia types.

One problem I have with it is the time frame when the parade route was actually known to the public down in Dallas, because it was changed at a late date. I think it's only about 48 hours before the trip that the parade route was changed. If it was a short interval, it seems a little hard to believe that the mafia could've recruited a guy like Oswald who just happened to have a job in the city on the parade route there.

I think those are the two options that seem to be left open. One is the mafia or two, it could be a double lone assassin.

Pendulum: What is your goal and message in addressing college students?

Preyer: I want to just explain the facts that our committee developed in this case. It's alarming to me that in politics you say something because that's what people want to hear, but you don't back it up with any kind of facts. When you get into the details of it, you find that what's up front is not what's really behind it.

I don't know why Americans are great conspiracy believers. You always believe there's some small power group pulling stings that the rest of us don't know about. It's just not true.

Oliver Stone: [from the film, JFK] Dedicated to the young in whose spirit the search for truth still marches on."

occurred. Johnson believes that there was more than one conspiracy involving government agencies in covering up some of the important facts surrounding the assassination. Most importantly, these agencies wanted to cover up their connection with Oswald.

Suddenly, a film with such substantial flaws has prompted a request for the early release of sealed documents pertaining to the assassination. If the documents are released early, Johnson believes that this will have very little affect on the possibility of discovering the truth behind the conspiracy.

"There are not going to be any great revelations when all this information is released," Johnson said. "It's as if someone has removed anything that might be incriminating to whoever was involved with the conspiracy."
