increase this overlap.

Ever wonder why the intellectual world and the social world at Elon seem to be so different? They don't have to be! What ideas do you have to overlap the two?

Ever wonder how you or your organization could make a difference when you have no funds to work with? Stop wondering. Academic Affairs has created project grants ranging from $50 to $500 (or more!) for projects and activities that require some money for food, mailing, research, guest speakers, publicity, etc.

Ever wonder how you (or your organization) could get some of that money? First you need to develop a plan. Then you need to have your plan reviewed by a faculty/staff member. Finally, just ask. It's that simple. Application forms may be obtained in Alamance 120.

In response to recommendations from the 1998 Academic Summit, the Academic Affairs office has allocated funding for student/faculty projects to increase overlap in social/academic activities. Funding is designed to pay for direct expenses for activities.

Deadline for submitting Spring semester proposals are December 1 and February 15.
