from FLU, page 1

The illness seems to be lasting 7-10 days.

Another issue concerning this illness that affects students is the fact that Health Services does not issue excuses.

Health Services will provide documentation that states that the student was at the center, and how long he or she was there.

Dean Patterson recommends that the student retain the documentation to present to any professor that requests it.

Health Services encourages any student that is experiencing flu-line symptoms to report to Health Services immediately. Early treatment is often the key to quicker patient recuperation.
