

Spring at Elon

An urgent need to go outside and sit by Fonville Fountain, that feeling that class would be better spent outdoors and an appreciation for the new flowers all mean one thing: It is Spring on Elon's Campus. Students and faculty have taken advantage of the sunshine and warm temperatures to take a break by the Fonville Fountain or study by Lake Mary Nell. Students also take advantage of the warm weather to attend Elon's spring sports events and participate in other outdoor activities.

photos by Emily MacDonnell/The Pendulum