

THE PENDULUM

Volume XXX, Issue 2

September 2, 2004

www.elon.edu/pendulum

If it matters to you, it matters to The Pendulum.

What's Inside

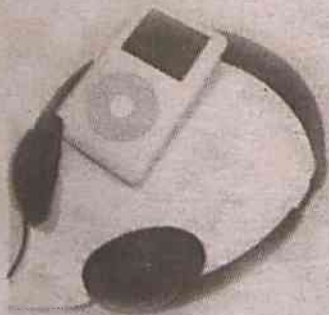

NEWS

Parking Problems
More than 300 students received parking tickets Monday.

See p. 4

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Miss Sharing MP3s?

Students can now share music on campus over Elon's network through iTunes.

See p. 21

FEATURES

College Cash

The real cost of college goes well beyond the sticker price of tuition. This week's special feature takes a look at where your money goes.

See p. 14-15

Brian Viebranz / Photographer

President Emeritus J. Earl Danieley led the recessional out of convocation. It is Elon tradition that the most tenured faculty member carries the university mace during Convocation and commencement. Danieley graduated from Elon in 1946 and became a faculty member the same year.

Elon opens 115th year

Ashley Feibish

News Editor

The opening of the university's 115th academic year began Aug. 28 with the conclusion of the Convocation for freshmen and transfer students held Under the Oaks.

Family and friends gathered with new students to hear messages from Elon faculty, staff and Student Government Association President Chris Morse.

Richard McBride, university chaplain, led invocation before Morse delivered the welcome address.

"I'd like to welcome you to Elon," Morse said. "It's an amazing and dynamic community. Be an active participant in the world around you."

Smith Jackson, vice president for student life

See CONVOCATION p. 4

What they said ...

Maurice Levesque,
Associate Professor of Psychology

- Act with integrity
- Uphold the standards of Elon's academic and social honor codes
- Recapture the passion for seeking knowledge and for asking, "Why?"

Leo Lambert, President

- Value a Liberal Arts education
- Recognize the fortunate circumstances that bring students to a university like Elon
- Consume alcohol responsibly, while maintaining respect for yourself and others.

