

Speed violations doubled in January

Some students have questioned facts of the speeding ticket reports they received last month.

night. According to Sjogren, she pulled out of the parking lot by the McEwen school of communications and drove on Lebanon and then turned right on Oak Street.

"I don't even think I was going as fast as marked, but he was rude the entire way, almost to the point of being out of line. And I had never had a ticket/accident or any violation before," Sjogren said. "I hope no other person has had an experience like mine."

In 2005, 44 tickets were issued.
