

Thursday, March 9, 2006

THE PENDULUM

Volume 31, Issue 19

March 9, 2006

www.elon.edu/pendulum

"If it matters to you, it matters to The Pendulum."

Founders Day helps campus to recall roots

Photographs courtesy of Elon University's Archives and Special Collections Department, Belk Library

President L.E. Smith (right) watches as Dr. J.U. Newman (left) plants a memorial tree in 1939 at the first celebration of Founder's Day. North Carolina Governor Clyde R. Hoey stands directly behind it.

Jerome Sturm/ Photographer

President Emeritus Earl Danieleley (left) and President Leo M. Lambert look on as members of the Brannock Family, Madge and Edith, plant a white oak tree in the Academic Village last year to commemorate Founders Day. Dr. Ned Brannock was recognized at last year's Founders Day.

Mary Cunningham
Reporter

While campus is expanding with construction, Elon is proving that just because it is moving into the future, does not mean the past will be forgotten.

Founders Day will take place March 9-14 to celebrate Elon's history and founding and also honor an influential member of the Elon community. The official Founders Day is March 11 and this year marks the 117th year since the chartering of the college.

Starting Thursday at chapel and ending on Tuesday at College Coffee Elon will be honoring Dr. A.L. Hook as part of Founder's Day. College Coffee will be in the academic village where Hook's relatives will be in attendance, a tree will be dedicated in his honor and a former student of his will speak. Look for Founder's Day

See FOUNDERS DAY
p. 8

FEATURES

p. 18

Triathlon Club begins first season at Elon

ENTERTAINMENT

p. 22

"Crash" beats "Brokeback Mountain" for Best Picture at Oscars

SPORTS

p. 25

Baseball opens conference play with Western Carolina

