

Join in the conversation

All of the articles on The Pendulum's Web site allow Elon students, faculty and staff to post comments. Be a part of the conversation and throw your two cents in. We're eager for your comments.

...the interesting science is an addiction procedure, according to a recent study by

...that the smoking, you've got a behavior that's hard-breaking, tends to cancer and it's highly preventable," said

...the Chronicle Observer outlined a memorandum by Gentile about his research on the

...I had done in graduate school with some work in public health and said, you know there's this emerging

...in the fall of 2008, special surveys were given to first-year students in Health and Wellness classes.

...Of the 145 students who took the survey, 53 percent of males self-identified as smokers. Meanwhile, 55.2

...The finding reported a high number of college students meet the criteria for alcohol and drug dependency.

...Depending on which criteria you used, anywhere between about 10 and 20 percent that self-identified as

...Gentile said the research raises questions about smoking as an addiction and the implications of that issue.

...What it basically means is that if you have someone who's abusing the addiction about smoking, there may well

...Department Rachel Vargay shared smoking habits last year and Vargay said, though she did so somewhat

...Sometimes I can't even offer my two cents," Vargay said. "One time when my friends I used to go for

...Vargay said she hopes to create her own survey for next year, but she agreed with Gentile regarding the addictive

...The thing is, however there's an addiction," Vargay said. "People are proud of their work."