THIS MONTH IN HISTORY - FESTIVAL OF HOLIDAY LIGHTS

Purple lights illuminate Fonville Fountain during the 2016 celebration of the Festival of Holiday Lights.

DEC. 4, 1997. Elon University held its annual Tree Lighting Ceremony. Several members of the university community helped place more than 1,600 luminarias along the sidewalks and by Fonville Fountain and hung lights and garlands around Moseley Center and the Alamance building. During the ceremony, the Salvation Army band also performed and was accompanied by Christmas carolers. This time of season encompassed several religious holidays, Elon's Hillel group acknowledged the upcoming celebration of Hanukkah by lighting the Menorah and offering a Jewish prayer. Following the prayer, then-chaplain Richard McBride promised the children a special guest from the North Pole. "We all will get to be children once again and enjoy the season," McBride said. Now better known as the Festival of Holiday Lights, Elon has recognized its generous alumni and senior student donors by adding their names on each of the luminarias, which now total more than 3,000 in the university's fifth year celebrating the holidays in this way.
