look cretins look. . .
look up to the leaders on campus
look at their minds, not their long hair and beards.

look children look. . .
look at the ones that try to do something about your bitches and all you do is complain even more.

look fools look. . .
look for someone new to follow,
because the ones you follow now are so far ahead that you can't keep up look students look. . .

look down on yourselves and your fellow robots look for something new,
or at least for the courage to look.

Drama Auditions For Student Evaluation Threepenny Opera Of Faculty

Auditions for the Elon Players' production of Bertolt Brecht's Threepenny Opera will be held March 24 at 2:00 and 7:30 p.m.

Threepenny Opera is Brecht's musical satire on bourgeois corruption using thieves, beggars, crooked policemen and prostitutes of 19th century London. He satirizes the human corruption and greed of all periods. Using songs set to the brilliant music of Kurt Weill, Brecht pricks pretensions with his lines and music.

"Mac the Knife", long popular in this country, is one of the best known songs from this show, which set a record which still stands as the longest running musical ever to play in New York.

The play is under the direction of Sandy Moffett. Mr. Moffett wishes to extend an invitation to all who are interested in helping on this production to come to the auditions, including those interested only in technical work.

A trained voice is not necessary for a part in the play, in fact there are several non-singing roles. Anyone experienced in dance is also invited.

Auditions are March 24 at 2:00 and 7:30

Outstanding Professor

On Wednesday the twenty-six of March the outstanding Professor for this year will be chosen. The election will be held in the Student Center from nine until three o'clock.

The outstanding Professor is chosen from suggestions made by students and Faculty which are then submitted to the outstanding Professor Committee. This year's committee chairman is Garry Oxford.

New Wilmington, Pa.-(I.P.)-Some professors at Westminster College are being rated by their students on terms of the professor's personality, capability, content, testing, mechanics, and student's general feeling toward him and his class. This is a trial program of the Professional Life Committee on recruitment and promotion of the Self Study.

According to Dr. Phillip Lewis, dean of the college and chairman of the Self Study's Steering Committee, the form distributed to selected professors is to be used to examine the validity of this type of instrument for evaluating professors. Class types include elective, required, and major courses.

The student does not sign his name but indicates by letter (H, A, or L) whether he considers himself high, average, or low in ability. He then rates his professor by the same terms on 36 items.

The forms, collected and sealed in a labelled brown envelope, are stored in the registrar's office until after final grades are turned in. They are then returned to the professor so that he may add the grade distribution for each class.

The instructor may use his own discretion for any other use he makes of the evaluation forms while they are in his possession.

The forms will be submitted to the committee so that they may be evaluated for the desired data.

According to Dr. Lewis, the committee will not identify the results with any individual instructor or student, and the forms will be destroyed after use.

Dr. Lewis also noted that several departments already use a similar evaluation form for their own purposes. Students rate the professors' personalities as to friendliness, enthusiasm, positiveness, humor, grooming and tolerance.

Jazz-Rock Concert

On Sunday, March 23, the Emanons (no names spelled backwards) will present a Jazz-Rock Concert in Whitley Auditorium at 4:00 P.M. The Emanons, composed of Elon students and directed by Jack O. White, have recently returned from a tour where they performed before crowds as large as eight thousand.

Radical Organizations And Universities

There has been much discussion as to the legality of "unpopular" or "radical" organization on a college or university campus. Though ostensibly it might appear that the administration or Board of Trustees would have the right to make the final decision the Supreme Court has passed a contrary opinion. On 1937 the high court ruled a college "may not pre-judge individuals organization before they have violated University rules and regulations.

It should be noted, however, that his decision also provides that the administration has the power to instantly react to any sort of disturbance of its campus.

Women Students: A Warning

An officer of the campus police force, the Burns Detective Agency, has warned that female students walking from Staley to the South Campus at night should take appropriate precautions for their own safety. Within the last several weeks, women students have been followed and threatened by a prowler. Anyone having information concerning this matter, please inform the campus police or the Elon College town police.

Wild Strawberries

The Liberal Arts Forum Fine Film Series continued its Ingar Bergman Festival with its presentation of "Wild Strawberries", Monday, March 24th at 7:00. Professor Robert Blake and Ed Pilkington conducted a discussion following the film.

Chapel Points Rejected

The chapel points given for the Pi Gamma Mu lecture were not accepted by the Administration. Why? Because they said so!

Are You The Ugliest Man On Campus?

The Sigma Rho chapter of Alpha Phi Omega at Elon College extends the invitation to all groups on campus to enter our first annual Ugly Man On Campus Contest on April 21-25. The contest is one of more than 500 such contests being held on college and university campuses across the nation. In past years UNC-G, Davidson, Campbell, Appalachian, and N.C. State, as well as other N.C. colleges, have made from $250 to $1200 in their UMOG Contests.

This year Sigma Mu Sigma, Sigma Phi Beat, TKE, Delta Epsilon, Pi Kappa Tau, Beta Omicron Beta, Mu Theta Sigma, and the P.E. Majors Club, have been invited to compete. If dormitories, service or other clubs or groups would like to enter a candidate, their participation is welcome.

The proceeds of the 1969 UMOG Contest will be placed back for the use of the students in the form of a Scholarship for a deserving student (to be decided by the Financial Aid Office).

There will be prizes for the individual ugly man winner and a prize for the sponsoring group. (We do require that each contestant have a sponsoring group). The Ugly Man Key and a gift certificate will be the 1st prize. The sponsoring group will have an inscribed plate on the Ugly Man Plaque.

There are no entry fees. Entries shall be made no later than April 10. All entries should be made on the proper registration blanks and given to any member of Alpha Phi Omega (Chrm. Tom Hedrick, Rm. Brannock 104, Ex. 346) or handed into the S.G.A. office. For additional information call Tom Hedrick Ext. 346 or Gerry Oxford at 584-6630. Let's See Who Is the Ugliest Man on Campus.

Forum To Present Lectures

On April 21-25 this "institution of higher learning" will once again have the privilege of entertaining seven of the finest academicians in our country today. The Liberal Arts Forum will present its fourth annual Symposium Week. The Forum has been diligently working towards this week in April, since last year and the fruits of their endeavors are just now being realized. This year such noted lecturers as Jack H. Hexter of Yale University, Bryce Lyon of Brown University and Arther E. Sutherland, make up just a few of the esteemed scholars who will attempt to enlighten our campus. As an added attraction, varied programs will be offered including two concerts and a final humanities lecture on Friday April 25 to be delivered by Dr. Alfred G. Engstrom, Professor of Romance Languages at the University of North Carolina.
