| 1. Do you favor the use of formal prayer in chapel meetings? |                                  | Regularly90                      |
|  | Occasionally97 | At special religious services119 |

The Chapel Committee would appreciate any suggestions concerning individual speakers or groups who would like to conduct chapel services.

Dance Committee

Dance Committee Chairman, Wally Sawyer, is pleased with the results of the Homecoming Dance, and he feels that his committee and all who helped to decorate did a "bang-up job".

Christmas--this means another opening night for the Dance Committee. The group is working with the Entertainment Committee, headed by Ken Broda, for a holiday dance success. "The Fabulous Five" will provide the music. Details concerning the Christmas Dance will be reported later.

The Dance Committee is also thinking about plans for the Mid-Winters Dance which will be a sock-hop this year.

The Handbook Revisions Committee

The Handbook Committee has had three meetings this semester. Thus far, most of the committee work has been concerned with organizational planning. The committee hopes to include in the '63-'64 handbook a complete index and possibly some pictures and sketches. It is also planned that the colors on the cover be changed to gold lettering on maroon. The handbook will be called THE ACORN.

The Student Affairs Committee

This committee has not met since October. However, a sub-committee is now working on the school calendar and is investigating the possibilities of extending the exam period.

The Publicity Committee

The new bulletin boards which were obtained by this committee will be placed in the dorms and the SG office as the school is planning to purchase a large bulletin board for the student union.
