

continued

(it's all melted), but it was there understand, oh! well, you really don't like tea anyway.

There!, you did it; you went through the line and it didn't hurt a bit. It was a bit sickening, but it's all over now until tomorrow night.

Wait a minute!! you almost forgot your milk from the new sanitary milk machines which have milk spilled in front of them all the time, and which don't have the dairy decals which the health department requires.

Look Out!! don't run over the manager or assistant manager as he scurries around to be sure all the workers' hats are on straight. After successfully avoiding them, proceed to your seat which has catsup spilled in it, push away the glasses, saucers, etc., sit down, and by all means enjoy your dinner.

This article is written with the interest of the student body in mind and it is hoped that it will be received accordingly. In the event of implication or error on the part of the author which is offensive to anyone my appologies are extended in advance. -OSCAR FOWLER

The Food Committee has had two meeting this year. It meets once a month with Mr. Wells and Mr. Hassell, the advisor. The Committee members are: Tom Corbitt, Cecil Gwaltney, Pam Johnson, Pat Rittle, Gay Yule and Bert Morrison, chairman.

At the first meeting, the Committee discussed, along with suggestions and improvements of the food, the new schedule for breakfast. This includes the hot and cold lines from 7:00-7:30 and the continental breakfast from 8:00-8:30.

One prevalent problem is the dirty silverware. Mr. Wells is trying new washing agents to remedy this problem, but has yet to find a really effective one.

Another problem seen by the Committee is the smoking in the dining hall. We ask that you please observe the 'no-smoking' signs.

For the Committee to properly represent the student body, we wish that you would keep these members in mind and give them your suggestions to be brought up at the meetings.

Laurels

Congratulations to the Elon Fighting Christians Football team which took the Conference Championship along with Catawba this year. The school is proud of this outstanding 1963 team.

Praises go to THE ELON PLAYERS for the fine and artistic presentation of Miller's, "Death of A Salesman". The play, which was directed by Mr. Sandy Moffett, drew capacity crowds every night it was given and was a real showing of talent, interest, and creativity on the campus.

The Elon College Choir gave an inspiring and beautiful presentation of "The Messiah" this year. The choral program is an annual event on the campus. The choir is directed by Mr. Bartholf.

Bouquets to the Women's Athletic Association for their Fashion Show. Attractive models displayed the latest fashions from Montaldo's in Greensboro. Entertainment included a song by Delta Upsilon Kappa, a song by Joyce Bristow, and three songs by the Elon Quartet. The evening was a successful one and was well-attended.

