

Unless our eyes deceive us, chapel is rather vacant these days. In the good old days, the first month or two of last semester the only way to get people into Whitley from 10 to 10:30 was to have a required chapel. That no longer works. For anyone who is interested and not aware of the fact, Dr. Reynolds has had some very excellent chapel programs this year.

There has been a little controversy on campus with regard to the "Campus Cry Baby" printed under the auspicious of the CAMPUS CRIER. This publication was not necessarily in agreement with the views of the CAMPUS CRIER editors; however, it did state "if the shoe fits, wear it;" and therefore, we can only assume that those who are squawking the loudest are the Cinderellas wearing the slipper.

The CAMPUS CRIER makes errors in printing "Too" and therefore will forgive the "mistakes" in the Maroon and Gold with regard to the letter from the "former editor of the CAMPUS CRIER." Maybe, we, the editors, are laboring under the mistaken idea that Miss Carol Trageser was the only editor.

Again, congratulations to the team, and let's all be there to support them tonight.
