ATTENDANTS

Homecoming Parade

SHERREE L. CROUCH

Many hours of hard and assiduous work went into the preparation of lovely floats for the Annual Homecoming Parade held Saturday, October 26. The parade got underway at 12:00 noon in spite of the boisterous wind.

As the floats were enroute to Smith Athletic Field via Ann, Person and Hay Streets, many specta-tors cheered with sheer delight. Four high schools were represented in the parade by their bands and high-stepping majorettes. These schools were W. B. Wicker, Sanford; Johnston County Training School, Smithfield; Harnett High Dunn; and E. E. Smith of Fayetteville. Our own FSC Bronco Marching Band also participated. Many civic organizations were also rep-

our Homecoming Queen, Miss Rosetta Rivers, an elementary education major, graced the parade with her charm and dignity. Among the other attractions were the charming Misses Shirley Battle, Mary Alice McNeil, and Erma Patterson, all attendants to Miss Homecoming.

Some of the other participants in the parade were the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity represented by Miss Joyce Faulcon of the Archon-ian Club of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority and the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity represented by Miss Glena Cheek of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. The Omega Psi Phi-Delta Sigma Theta float and the Community Kindergarten float tied for first place. The second place winner was the Phi Beta Sigma-Zeta Phi Beta float. The Drama Guild and the Health and Physical Education floats received honorable mention.

Homecoming Dance

PATRICIA REGIS ROBERT L. DANIELS

Fayetteville State's Homecoming festivities, for the year 1963-64, were concluded on the evening of October 26, with the quite gala Student Homecoming Dance held in the Lilly Gymnasium.

The gymnasium was given a canopied effect by opened, vari-colored parachutes from which gaily colored crowns were suspended in honor of our queen, Miss Rosetta Rivers. Bordering the edges of the dance floor were hung streamers in Fayetteville State College's own colors of blue and white. Beautiful greenery marked the entrance of the dance floor, which gave one the impression of entering a sort of Never, Never Land.

To add to this setting, the music of Fayetteville State's Bronc glows, under the leadership of William Westfield of Orange, N. J., created a mood of complete and dependent of all cares and was donment of all cares and woes. Other members of the band were Fred Fuller, trombone; Ray Bry-ant, guitar; Arthur Hightower, drums; Clyde Wooten, trumpet; Fred Byrd, piano; and Michael Rush, baritone saxophone. Westfield was on alto saxophone. Highlighting the band were the well-known vocalists: Gwen Reid, David Hollingsworth, Charles Bennett and Charles Willis.

All in all, the evening was one which was fully enjoyed and will long be remembered by the large number of students, alumni and guests attending.

Coronation Of The Queen

JOSEY MONROE

Miss Rosetta Rivers, a senior from Wadesboro, N. C., was crowned "Miss Homecoming," in the Lilly Gymnasium of Fayetteville State College on Wednesday evening, October 23.

Miss Rivers was attractively attired in formal wear — white anklelength, bell-shaped satin gown with spaghetti straps, white satin sloppers, and other matching accessories. She was escented by Lames Anderson and other matching accessories. She was escorted by James Anderson, tri-captain of football team and a senior from Kinston, North Carolina.

"Miss Homecoming's" court included the following attendants: Miss Shirley Battle, senior from Rocky Mount, Miss Erma Patterson, junior from Fayetteville, and Miss Mary Alice McNeil, junior from Fayetteville. Everyone who attended the ball had an enjoyable evening. This was the climax of the first day of our Homecoming festivities.

Bonfire Held

BETTYE RANKIN

On Friday evening, October 25, the Annual Homecoming Bonfire and Pep Rally was held on the Smith Athletic Field. The Bronco family's morale was exceedingly high as they cheered and paraded about the field. There was a series of cheers that lasted continuously for more than an hour. After the Bonfire was over, yells and cheers could still be heard across the campus as students moved toward unfinished floats, posters yet to be hung, the pressing of that special gown, and other tasks leading to the final day of the Homecoming Weekend.
