

TEST DATES FOR THE NTE EXAMS

College seniors preparing to teach school may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of the four different test dates announced by Educational Testing Service, a nonprofit, educational organization which prepares and administers this testing program.

New dates for testing of prospective teachers are: January 7, March 18, July 1, and October 7, 1967. The tests will be given at nearly 500 locations throughout the United States, ETS said.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and by several states for certification or for licensing of teachers. Some colleges also require all seniors preparing to teach to take the examinations.

Leaflets indicating school systems and state departments of education which use the examination results are distributed to colleges by ETS.

On each full day of testing, prospective teachers may take the Common Examinations, which measure the professional preparation and general cultural background of teachers, and one of 13 Teaching Area Examinations which measure mastery of the subject they may expect to teach.

Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, or their colleges, for specific advice on which examinations to take and on which dates they should be taken.

A Bulletin of Information containing a list of test centers, and information about the examinations, as well as a Registration Form, may be obtained from college placement officers, school personnel departments, or directly from National Teacher Examinations, Box 911, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

Reading Council Chartered

Eighteen elementary, high school and college teachers of Fayetteville, Cumberland County area form the nucleus of the newly organized Fayetteville Reading Council of the International Reading Association.

The local Reading Council is an affiliate of the International Reading Association and proposes to research and disseminate information pertinent to the reading problems of pupils, students, and adults.

Chosen by the reading council membership to guide the organization in its first year are: William C. Bridgers of Edward Evans Elementary School, president; Winifred D. Johnson, English Instructor at Fayetteville State College, vice president; and Mildred P. Jones, assistant professor of English at Fayetteville State College as secretary - treasurer. Augusta M. Haynes, of the E. E. Smith High School English Department was elected assistant secretary;

Charles I. Brown, associate professor of Education at Fayetteville State College, publicity chairman; Emma W. Greene of Edwards Elementary School, membership chairman; and Helen S. Davis, English Instructor at Fayetteville State College, program committee chairman.

The Council was formally ushered into the ranks of educational organizations of the Fayetteville Cumberland County area at a recent meeting held in the Reading Clinic of Fayetteville State College.

The highpoint of the induction ceremonies was the presentation of the Charter and the approved Constitution to William C. Bridgers, president of the Fayetteville Reading Council by affiliates of the International Reading Association. Other developments of interest include the election of Miss Augusta M. Haynes as treasurer of the organization; the adoption of a theme proposed by Program Chairman Helen S. Davis, "Treating Reading Difficulties," as the principal theme or basis for the Council's work for 1966-67; and the designation of Fayetteville State College as the official headquarters of the Fayetteville Reading Council.

Membership in the Reading Council is open to any interested prospective teacher and liberal arts student in the Fayetteville, Cumberland County area. Students are also invited to attend the school board meetings, and programs on the second Monday of each month.

CHAPEL AND VESPERS

The regular chapel hour each Wednesday is not included in the schedule this year. Classes are scheduled at 11:00 and 12:00 noon on Wednesdays. Instead of the assembly hour in the auditorium each week, a discussion session will be conducted every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the choir room in the new classroom building. These discussions will be led by faculty, students, and invited guests. They began on September 28. The first discussion was led by President Jones. There will not be the traditional Vesper services sponsored by the college. Other groups are privileged to sponsor program in the auditorium at any time. The college will sponsor educational movies and musical programs in the auditorium on Sunday twice a month. These programs will begin at 6:00 p.m. The first movie was Sunday, October 1.

Summer Tours Of Europe Brighten Student Outlook

College students and high school seniors faced with the prospect of nine month's academic labors can take heart in contemplating a student-styled sojourn in Europe next summer.

When the last blue book has been handed in to close the school year, it will be time to jet away to Europe on an excursion tailored to the tastes of student tourists from 17 to 25 years of age.

Tours range from a three-week Student Continental Tour of Italy, France and Switzerland to a 67-day Student Comprehensive Tour, visiting 14 countries in Europe and North Africa. A wide choice of destinations, lengths of stay and departure times has been arranged by University Travel Co., a 40 year veteran of introducing American students to Europe.

Air France will participate in the program, providing swift transatlantic flights on Boeing 707 jetliners, as well as additional transportation in Europe and the Middle East. An attractive brochure giving full itineraries and prices for 17 summer tours is available on request from Air France Student Tours, Dept. CG, 683 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10022.

The three-week Student Continental Tour offers leisurely sightseeing in five cities. Activities en route encompass such varied experiences as attending the Rome Opera, mountain climbing in St. Moritz, visiting the Louvre Museum in Paris and swimming from the Lido in Venice. The $845 tour price includes all transportation, accommodations, sightseeing, transfers, service charges and most meals.

Sections leave in groups of 25-30 members, each having its own tour leader. Well informed local guides, especially chosen for student interests, will provide introductions to the highlights of the cities to be visited. Plenty of free time is allowed for pursuing special interests, whether cultural events, shopping or sports.
