In February Edition Of THE VOICE ----Student Teachers' Feature With Pictures

Ann Carter,

Donna Newman

TwoF.S.C.

\68 Grads

Employed

By Ethelene Hall

Misses Anne Carter and Donna Newman have already received notice of employment in The Raleigh Public School system. The develop-ments were the results of quickly filed applications.

H. E. Brown, principal of Ligon High School paid a pre-Christmas visit to

FSC and stated that FSC

graduates were welcomed and wanted in the Raleigh

Miss Carter, a Math major, is a native of Ral-eigh. Miss Newman, from

Clinton is also a Math

Mr. Edward McDonald, a 1967 F.S.C. graduate, works with Mr. Brown at Aura of Raleigh.

System.

major.

It all started when Mr.

Already

They Come By The Numbers PROSPECTIVE EMPLOYERS FREQUENT FAYETTEVILLE STATE By BETTY COOPER

Dear Fellow Seniors,

The time approaches that we have long awaited-. college graduation. As usual, many prospective employers will be on our campus interviewing us as prospective employees. The members of our active placement bureau are asking your cooperation in meeting these interviewers on the dates they are on our campus.

On January 16, a respresentative from the Cleve-land, Ohio public schools system will be here to inierview prospective employees.

On February 8, an interviewer from Ceril County, Maryland will behereto interview seniors in all areas.

On February 13, interviewers will be on our campus from Duval County, Florida and Snow Hill, Maryland. On February 16, an interviewer from Washington, D.C. will be here to interview prospective teachers in all areas.

On February 22, a representative from Valnsia County, Florida will be on our campus to interview prospective graduates in all areas.

On February 26, an interviewer from Carteret County Public Schools system will be here to interview prospective graduates.

On March 5, a representative from Carthage, N.C. will be here to interview prospective teachers. On March 20, an interviewer from Richmond, Virginia will be on our campus to interview prospective graduates in all fields.

On March 22, the Dade County, Florida school system will have a representative on our campus to interview prospective graduate in all fields.

Please watch bulletin boards and the college newspaper for other listings.

The Way

Ligon. A coterie of F. S.C. grads is employed throughout the Raleigh Sincerely Yours, Betty L. Cooper System. In an effort to bring more F.S.C. graduates into the system, Mr. Brown showed and ex-Dunham Shows plained the salary schedule to the group and cited the Metropolitan

By Mattie Cogdell

Joseph M. Dunham, a native of Fayetteville, is doing a splendid job as president of the Day Student's Organization. He has put a lot of time and energy in the activities of this organization. During the Homecoming exercises, he was always available to do his part to promote participation of the day students in the Homecoming affair. He also provided for some type of Christmas activity.

He has a tremendous job because it is a task to in-form all of the day students of meetings and activities that are occurring. It is an even greater task to get them involved and to find an hour that is suitable for all of us.

FSC FROSH COED MOTHER OF FOUR

By Cornel Davis

Mrs. McQuire has little difficulty huddling the wee, anxious clan. Up the ladder left to right, Tracey hypnotizes, Jeffrey Lynn teases, Lester charms, while Michael regales.

Mrs. Eva McGuire of Godwin, North Carolina, twentysix year old Mother of four, is currently enrolled as a freshman at F.S.C. The children are Tracey, four; Jeffrey Lynn, five; Lester, six; and Michael, seven. Their father is Sgt. Lester L. McGuire, Sr., now stationed with the United States Air Force in Thailand, who saw the kids last in May 1967.

Mrs. McGuire, shown below with books underarms and tots in tow, said she chose F.S.C. because her oldest sister, Melba Lindsey, attended F.S.C. for two years in 1954-55, and because several relatives also attended F.S.C.

The mother of four is a graduate of Armstrong High School in Fayetteville. She is an elementary education major who plans to teach for several years and then to become a social worker.

She said the children present no major problem to her study. Her aunt and mother take care of Tracey and Jeffrey Lynn in Godwin, alternating between Monday and Friday. Lester and Michael are in school at Wade Elementary School in Wade. They ride the school bus from home. Mrs. McGuire takes Tracey and Jeffrey Lynn to her aunt by auto.

The radiant Mrs. McGuire said of F.S.C., "I think F.S.C. is a wonderful college. Of all the colleges I have ever seen, I like it best, mainly because it offers everything I need, but also, because it is convenient and fits my situation economically." The freshman mother added, "When I finish here, I

JOSEPH DUNHAM

He does, however, have some help. Others helping him are John Pone, Vice President; Delores Purdie, Secretary; Shirley McLean, Assistant Secretary; Al-fred Ferguson, Treasurer; Frieda Truitt, Reporter.

HAVE A HAPPY NEW YEAR ANYWAY

Christmas In Retrospect

Frieda L. Truitt

Christmas is gone. We, as a whole race, have stood that holiday, which has such a beautiful spiritual background, up against a wall of modern times and coldheartedly executed it. Strangely enough, a ghost has arisen from the grave of the sacred Christmas and calls itself Christmas also. I have witnessed the rebirth of Christmas. The new Christmas is much different from the one that I knew as a child. Most of the things that Christmas meant to me are now gone. A little change here and a little change there have made Christmas a ghost of its former self.

A noticeable change has taken place in the tree. Our tree, which is considered old-fashioned, is always green, a green that can not only be seen but smelled. The hope I'll be able to send my kids here, because F.S.C. has one of the best college presidents and some of the best teachers in the nation."

ornaments are bright, but not gaudy. The lights are few and plain. At the top of the tree is placed a bright twinkling light in the shape of a star. Tears fill my eyes every Christmas when I look at the star. I guess all this sentiment is old-fashioned and America is progressive. Manufacturers are constantly telling us that we must always be modern and unique. It is now no longer fashionable to have a green tree. One must have a silver one, a white one, a pink one, or a blue one. One must have music tinkling from a hidden music box. The ornaments are no longer simple. They are now all hideous sizes and shapes, splashed with colors, signifying nothing. They are all silver and sparkle, and no sentiment. The lights must bubble, flash, blink, glimmer, and do a million other things. The Christmas tree is an over glorified monstrosity that smells suspiciously like machine oil.

Christmas songs have likewise undergone a disastrous change. It seems that no one is satisfied with

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 8)

Silhouetted Senorita: wondrously robed Sandra Bazemore See pictorial on page eight.