

To Wave Wand At Festival

ABOVE IS LOVELY MISS JACQUELINE RENDLEMAN WHO WILL REIGN AS "MISS HOMECOMING" NEXT WEEK AT F.S.C. SHE'S A JUNIOR FROM HICKORY, N.C.

Academic Counselor Added At FSC

Fayetteville - Miss Dorcas M. Bradley has been named Academic Counselor at Fayetteville State College, President Rudolph Jones announced recently.

Dr. Jones said that this is a new position at the college and Miss Bradley would be involved with developing programs to strengthen students academically, socially, and culturally. In addition, she will coordinate the vocational guidance program.

Miss Bradley comes to Fayetteville State from the University of North Carolina -- Greensboro where she was associated with staff training of the Headstart program. Her experiences include secondary school counseling and social work. She was the first of her race to serve as a Juvenile Officer with the Greensboro Police Department.

A native of Durham, Miss Bradley received the B. S. and M. S. degree from North Carolina A. & T. State University, Greensboro. She has done additional graduate studies at UNC-G.

She counts membership in the National Education Association, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority and Kappa Delta Pi Honorary Society.

Mrs. Williams New Head

Fayetteville-Mrs. L. S. Williams has been named Director of Fayetteville State College's Student Teaching Program, President Rudolph Jones announced today.

Dr. Jones said that Mrs. Williams will replace Dr. Nelson Harris, who retired at the end of summer school.

In her new position

Mrs. Williams will coordinate all activities related to the college's teacher education program--elementary--secondary--including supervision, placement, guidance - counseling and curriculum. In addition, she will work closely with cooperating school systems in the state. She (Continued On Page 4)

BRONCS FEUD VIKINGS IN HOMECOMING CLASH

Jacquelyn Rendleman Activities Monarch

Fayetteville State's Broncos will host the Elizabeth City State Vikings in their annual Homecoming game, Saturday night, November 2, on the athletic field. The event brings together two old rivals who are both off to a good grid start this year.

Miss Jacqueline Rendleman will reign as "Miss Homecoming," and will be attended by Miss Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior--Portia Tann, Rebecca Alford, Joyce Grear and Yvonne Alerman, respectively.

Miss Rendleman is a Junior from Hickory, North Carolina. She is a graduate of Ridgeview Sr. High School in Hickory, North Carolina. At Fayetteville State, she is an active member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. She has been named to the Dean's List since her enrollment. Miss Rendleman belongs to "Who's Who" and several other campus organizations.

When asked how she felt about her position, the lovely Miss Rendleman remarked, "There is no greater title that I would want to hold here at Fayetteville State."

The events get under way with an All-Students' Social on October 30 in the gymnasium. A pep rally and bonfire will be held on the evening of November 1, while FSC Alumni hold their annual dance the same evening. Broncos will rise early for a pre-dawn dance Saturday morning, November 2, 2:30-6:00 A.M.

A parade featuring "Miss Homecoming," Campus organizations and Alumni, will precede the 2:00 P.M. grid clash and activities will conclude with a students' dance at the Cumberland County Auditorium that night. The Impressions will make music. Alumni, students and public may attend this finale. The public transit company will provide buses to and from the campus for a small fee.

THE VOICE

FAYETTEVILLE STATE COLLEGE

VOL. 22 NO.2

Fayetteville, N. C.

OCTOBER 26, 1968

FSC Placement Figures Impressive

Fayetteville State College's Placement Office has revealed that 105 seniors of the 1968 graduating class of 124 have accepted jobs in industry, government and education.

According to J. C. Jones, coordinator of placement, more than 24-percent will be in positions within a fifty-mile radius of the college. This represents a significant decrease over a similar period last year. Five graduates will be employed by the Fayetteville City Schools.

The list disclosed a sharp increase in students taking non-teaching positions. Twenty-students (16%) have commenced work in government and industry. FSC is primarily a teacher-education college offering non-teaching majors in biology, mathematics and sociology.

More than 27-percent (33) of the 1968 class have assumed positions outside of North Carolina. Jones said that this represents an increase over the 1967 class.

Three Fayetteville State students will attend graduate school at Southern Illinois University, Ambassador College and the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Demand for FSC graduates was in step with the national trend--greater than the total available. "We could have placed many more, but we didn't have the applicants available," Jones said.

In keeping with the national trend, the report revealed that the mobility among students from predominantly Negro colleges is on an increase.

$1 Million Sought For FSC

President Rudolph Jones, Tuesday, submitted budget requests totalling $955,719 to the Advisory Budget Commission for Fayetteville State College during the next biennium.

The largest item in the budget is $538,506 for increasing faculty salaries. He asked for 30 percent increases, amounting to $207,118 for the first year and $331,338 the second year of the biennium.

The budget includes $46,000 for new equipment.

Dr. Jones asked a total of $227,040 for new personnel over the two-year period, including a new vice president for development, placement officer, secretaries, electronics engineer and laboratory assistants.

"Miss FSC" Among Group Students Named To 'Who's Who'

Fayetteville - Fourteen Fayetteville State College students -- two seniors and twelve juniors--have earned listing in the 1968-1969 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Notice of the FSC student selections was released by Mrs. Jean Joyner, Student Services Director of "Who's Who."

Fayetteville State students were selected on the basis of outstanding academic achievement, leadership and participation in extra curricular campus activities, citizenship and service to the college and promise of future usefulness to society and professional advancement.

In addition to being listed in the coveted "Who's Who", students will receive engraved certificates.

The "select group" includes Charles Patrick Chesney, Annie Marie Cogdell, and Mallie Varlene McNeill, Fayetteville; Nettie Lou Colquitt, Spring Lake; William Alton Murphy, Godwin; Alphia Elizabeth Alston, Siler City; Mercer Gordon Anderson, Kinston; Shellie Anderson, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Marian Annette Moore, Wilmington; Faye Louise Rainey, Concord; Jacqueline Ann Rendleman, Hickory; Dorothy Elliott, Beaufort; Annie Louise McCollough, Rose Hill and Eloise Singletary, Lake City, South Carolina. The group is pictured at the right, beaming at the new found laurel.

