fifteen weeks. Its purpose is to help freshmen become acclimated to the environment and to make a smooth transition from freshman year to the sophomore year. Freshman Orientation is a mandatory program for all freshmen.

The Center takes on a consultant role, serving the three university divisions and various agencies in the city, such as the Drug Abuse Center, City Health Center, and the City Law Enforcement Agency.

Any student wishing to obtain the services of the Counseling Center may contact Dr. Willis C. Ham, Director of the Counseling Center at Fayetteville State University. The Center is located in the basement of the Smith Building.

THREE UNIQUE STUDENTS-There are several unique things about these three lovely Fayetteville State University (N.C.) coeds (left to right) Sharon Moore Campbell, Colette Moore, and Sandra Sherrill. First, they all were recently selected to Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities; secondly, all are honor roll and Dean's List students; thirdly, they all belong to the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority; and fourthly, all of them finished South Iredell (County) High School. However, there is one difference, only Sharon and Colette are sisters but all of them are good friends. (FSU Photo by John Henderson)

TITLE IX

Acting at the request of President Ford, HEW's Office for Civil Rights (OCR) has prepared a document providing guidance to schools and colleges on eliminating sex discrimination in athletic programs under Title IX of the Education Amendments Act of 1972.

In order for Fayetteville State University to comply with Title IX and to bring the women's athletic program to the necessary level, we would like to encourage all interested women to try out for track, tennis, golf, and basketball.

In addition to women athletes, the Athletic Department is actively seeking women volunteers from the faculty to coach women's teams in these sports.

Anyone interested please contact Dr. Joe R. Robinson, Director of Athletics, ext. 310 or 398.
