Everybody knows that colleges comes in all sorts of shapes, sizes and programs. This is as it should be, of course, because as long as there are many different educational needs and requirements there should be a variety of institutions to meet them.

There is a college in another state that differs quite a bit from WCC and we thought you might be interested in some of their Rules and Regulations as published in their 1970-71 Catalog:

--All students are expected to furnish bed linens and towels.

--All students are expected to care for their own rooms.

--Everyone is required to rise at the 6:15 bell and spend an hour in prayer until 7:15 o'clock. Students are not allowed to study any lesson during this hour.

--Students are not allowed to visit from room to room without permission of the president. No one can receive relatives or visitors without permission of the president.

--No one is allowed to leave the grounds of the college without permission of the president. Ladies must not go without proper attendants.

--Students are not allowed to go into debt by buying on credit or by borrowing money without permission of the president.

--No one is expected to ask for permission to go into town more than once a week, unless absolutely necessary. Permission must be granted by the President.

--Everyone is expected to be prompt to classes, services and meals unless excused by the President.

--Students are not allowed to carry correspondence of such a nature or to such an extent that it interferes with their school work.

--Positively no communication is allowed between young men and ladies in the college by writing or by any other way.

--Members of the college are not allowed to engage in conversation about the opposite sex, except in a general way, when it is needful.

--Students are not allowed to converse with teachers of the opposite sex, except with the permission of the president.

--Lights must be out by 10:30 o'clock except with permission of the President.

--Students will not have radios or electrical appliances in their rooms without permission of the President.

--No one is allowed to stay out of classes without permission of the President.

--No one is allowed to drop a course without permission from the President.

--Every member of the college is required to report to the President any knowledge of the disregard of these regulations by anyone.

Pro Talk

After the Christmas break, we find that the WCC Athletics are in full swing again. There was no action in the conference basketball schedule, but everyone had their eyes fixed on the tube over the Holidays, where they were thrilled to see all the Bowl Games and of course, the grand "fanally" of the Pro-Play-Offs. The final decision for the Super Bowl was decided and the NFL champions were, the Minnesota Vikings and AFL chose to let Kansas City Chiefs represent their league. Everyone predicted that the Vikings would represent their league. Everyone predicted that the Vikings would run away with the game, but it turned out to be just as big an upset as last years Super Bowl, where New York Jets headed by Joe Namath's fine passing, defeated the Baltimore Colts in a fine exhibition. The Chiefs were not to be stopped. Everything that Vikings Quarterback Kapp called was comprehended and with three interceptions, and two recovered fumbles, the Kansas City Chiefs won by a score of 23-7.

INTRAMURAL EVENTS

The intramural basketball is off to a banking start after the Holiday break. The league is made up of several individual teams, each representing his department in his best of skills. The (1) No-Names, (2) The Colt-45's, (3) Forestry Club, (4) The Engineers, (5)Knicks make up the whole squad, (6) Tech Originals and (7) Panthers. The games are played on Tuesdays and Thursdays between 3 and 5. As it stands now the teams have played only

Information for Taxpayers

Mr. Glenn Smith, Business teacher, wants to remind all Wayne Community College students that April 15 is the deadline for filing their Federal and North Carolina Income Tax Returns. However, since most students will owe no tax, they should file early to obtain their tax refunds.

A 1969 North Carolina Income Tax law change provides a personal exemption of $2,000 as a head of household for single individual who maintains a household for 183 days or more.

Students should remind their parents that they are entitled to an extra $600 exemption on the North Carolina Tax Return if the students attended Wayne Community College.

ETE

The brothers of Sigma Tau Sigma proudly announce the completion of their fall quarter pledge period and the addition of two new brothers: Robert Smith and Frank Lewis.

Brother Smith is a native of Rocky Mount and is majoring in Drafting and Design. Brother Lewis is a Goldsboro man who is enrolled in the college transfer program. We the brothers of Sigma Tau Sigma wish to publicly congratulate these men for their successful completion of the pledge period and welcome them into our brotherhood.

Rush to Begin

A new Sigma Tau Sigma rush will soon be started. In order to explain our "greek" terms to students, we invite you to study our rush procedure.

Rush is divided into two sections: informal and formal rush. It is physically impossible for the brothers to contact all of the male students; therefore informal rush is a period of approach. It is during this time that brothers approach students and interested students approach the brothers to informally discuss the fraternity. This is an ideal time for a student to learn the pros and cons of pledging to decide whether or not to pursue this goal.

If after discussing our fraternity with the brothers, a student decides that he is still interested in Sigma Tau Sigma, he will attend the formal rush meeting. This meeting is used to: 1. explain in detail the goals of Sigma Tau Sigma; 2. Give the rushee a brief history of the fraternity; and 3. explain the responsibilities and duties of a pledge. Formal rush could well be termed a judgment meeting. It is at this time that the rushee must judge the merits of our fraternity and make his decision.

If the rushee indicates his desire to enter into pledge period, he is extended an official bid. The rushee may then enter into pledge period by presenting his bid during the pledge induction ceremony.

Pledge period is a six to eight week test period for both brothers and pledges. During the pledge period, the pledge must evaluate our brotherhood and decide for himself whether or not we are worthy of being called his brother. At any time during the pledge period, the pledge may decide to terminate his pledgehood; and by so doing, withdraw as a candidate for brotherhood.

As the pledge is evaluating the brotherhood, the brothers are testing and evaluating the pledge. In essence, the brothers are looking for three important characteristics: 1. leadership ability, 2. ability to promote friendship, and 3. the willingness to serve. Upon demonstrating these characteristics, the pledge is inducted as a brother and thus the beginning of a new lifelong bond among brothers.

Let us, the brothers of Sigma Tau Sigma, clarify one point. We are not competing against anyone, any club, or organization. In fact, we encourage you to participate in other organizations and activities. We are, however, searching, for men who can become our brothers and help us make this a better life.

If you are interested in learning more about our fraternity, Sigma Tau Sigma, approach any of our brotherhood for more information. Robert Heffernan, president; Lee Tunnell, vice president; Alex Daniels, secretary; Ray Hope, treasurer; Frank Lewis, reporter; George Joseph, chaplain; or Mr. William J. Rogers, faculty advisor.

Forestry Club

The Forestry Club has had two meetings since the last report. The meeting on December 10th began at the Boys' Club at 7 o'clock. After some discussion it was decided that the club would participate in intramural basketball beginning the week after Christmas vacation. Game times are 3 to 5 on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

A motion was made to donate ten dollars to the O'Berry Center for candy for the children's Christmas stockings. The candy was later taken to them by Jay Corum and Larry Stump.

Other topics discussed during the meeting were the Empty Stocking Fund and a used book store to be run by the Forestry Club. The meeting wound up with two good films, The Desert and a comedy about old time farming.

The latest meeting was held on January 7th. Attending were two of our advisors, Mr. Moore and Mr. Goodman. During the meeting we decided that Fran Davis, the Forestry Club Queen, would represent us in the Miss WCC contest.

Starting Monday, January 12th some of the members will begin a fifteen hour First Aid course taught by an instructor from the Goldsboro Rescue Squad.

A memorial plaque for Bobby Baxley of Hope Mills, N. C., A June '68 graduate who was killed in Vietnam, and for all veterans from WCC will be placed in the future student lounge by the Forestry Club.

We are still working on the used book exchange. Space is the biggest obstacle at the moment.

The Rodeo is coming up this spring and we are beginning now on our plans. It should be the best one yet.

Before breaking for refreshments the Student Union Fund Drive was discussed and Robert Kaylor was elected a new club representative to replace Billy Callow who is now in the Fish and Wildlife Club.

We adjourned the meeting just in time for many of us to watch the State-Carolina game.

Watchmakers

Welcome to John Gallagher who recently joined the Watchmaker class and who has become a full-fledged member of the WCC Watchmakers Guild. A belated welcome also to Clarence Gains, Charles Todd, Charles Rivenbach and Donald Braswell. Better late than never, "eh" Don.

The first article in a series on how to buy and maintain watches will be published in the next issue of Wayne Communi-

We have a few cracker barrel philosophers in the watchmaking class who, without too much urging, are ready to give out "pearls of wisdom" to others. The philosophy dispensed in this column is not designed to be a panacea for all your problems however, it may brighten someone's day. So here goes the "cracker barrel philosopher" for the month of January, 1970. "Think lucky --if you fall into a pond, check your hip pockets for fish."-- John E. Lassiter.

SUPPORT WCC

MEET DARLENE — Starting our new year, we find 18-year-old, Miss Vivian Darlene Britt cheering for the Bisons of Wayne Community College. In addition to being a cheerleader, Darlene is a business student majoring in the executive secretary curriculum. Let's all join Darlene with a big cheer for a New Year at WCC.
