All About WCC Girls

Always we hear the spoiled plaintive cry of the teenager, "what can we do; where can we go?" Here are some suggestions. Go home! Paint the woodwork -- mow the lawn -- wash the car -- learn to cook -- scrub some floors -- repair the sink -- build a boat -- GET A JOB!! Or even enroll at WCC. Your parents do not owe you a living. Your city does not owe you recreational facilities. The world does not owe you a living. You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and your talents. Help the minister, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick -- assist the poor. And when you are through -- and not too tired -- read a good book. Sorry about the title. It should have read, "All About Teenagers". But it did make you read on -- didn't it?

Devoted Counselor Leaves

Mrs. Susan T. Collins has resigned her position as counselor to accept a position as Coordinator of the Eastern Wayne Middle School Project in Vocational Education.

Mrs. Collins came to Wayne Community college in 1965 as a counselor. Prior to her employment at the college she had a wide range of educational experiences in Newton, Greenville, and Wayne county schools.

In 1952 she received her Bachelor of Science degree from East Carolina University and in 1955 her Master of Arts degree also at ECU. Since receiving her masters she has taken other course work at the doctoral level. Mrs. Collins also earned a Psychological Examiners License in 1969.

The students, staff, and faculty wish to express their appreciation to her for her time and devotion to Wayne Community college.

I Wish I Had Known

1. What I was going to do for a living--exactly what my lifework would be.
2. How to make money.
3. The commercial asset of being neatly and sensibly dressed.
4. That habits are mighty hard to change after 21.
5. That worthwhile things require time, patience, and work.
6. That the world would give me just about what I deserve.
7. That a thorough education not only pays better wages than hard labor, but it brings pride in a job.
8. The value of integrity.

Life at WCC

Rules of Procedure

Lawrence, Kan.--(I. P.)--At the University of Kansas, the University Disciplinary Board had adopted new rules of procedure. The new rules include statutes which provide for:

Specific warnings must be made to the student to inform him of his rights.

The opportunity for students to examine documents before their hearing.

The student advisor, who can actively participate in the hearing whether he is a non-lawyer, lawyer, law student, etc.

A limit of three character witnesses.

In addition to these four new rules, the Board has also adopted a policy concerning the publication of names of students involved in disciplinary cases. This statute states:

The Board's action as to any charged student who elects a public hearing shall be made public, including the student's name and the disposition of his will graduate in June, 1970.

During his studies at WCC, Paul has been an honor student, a member of the Budget Committee and is presently the Fraternity photographer. Paul has contributed highly to the organization of the financial section of the Fraternity, and has been very active in all Fraternity functions.

Marshall Boykin, former president, once made this statement, "Paul's enthusiasm and stalwart astuteness has aided greatly in carrying on the style of the Fraternity."

David Adams, present president, of the Fraternity, made this statement, "Paul is one of the most outstanding brothers of the Fraternity. He readily accepts responsibility and is dedicated to the Brotherhood in all phases."

case.

If the student elects a private hearing, the Board may publicly announce the circumstances of the case and the Board's action, but may divulge the name of the student involved only to appropriate University officials.
