

Pat, James, Jim, and Isaac support student union.

Student Union Is Self-Supporting

The burden on the Student Government Association could easily have been as high as $2,000 a year for Student Union expenditures. But now this money will remain in the SGA for other student activities. The reason for all of this is that the Student Union will now be able to requisition its own needs.

The pool table, foosball game, and jukebox have been bringing in regular amounts of money each week and now this money has been put in a fund for Student Union needs. In fact, some of the money is already in use.

Chess games, newspapers, magazines, and more cards have been ordered with the Fund money and all material will be placed in the Information Booth. The procedure for checking out equipment will be the same: an I. D. card or Driver's License for each piece of equipment.

A carpet has also been chosen but the color remains undetermined. It will be commercial carpeting, the type used in most institutional buildings where there is a large amount of walking traffic.

The Information Booth will house all the recreational equipment and maps.

The Fish and Wildlife department has donated an aquarium to be displayed when the interior is completed.

A proposal has been made to merge the Student Activities Council with the Union since most activities are either held within or in conjunction with the Union. This would allow better planning of dances and other activities.

Bisons vs. MOC

The Bisons stormed over the Trojans of Mount Olive College, 8-1 in their latest court session.

Marion Edwards swung a racket to the tune of 6-1, 8-6 over M. O. C.'s Gibson; Bryant Langston doubled a score of 6-1, 6-1, to halt the Trojan's Powell; Bobby Grantham beat Mercer (M.) 6-1, 6-0; David Adams overpowered M. O. C.'s Sasser, 6-3, 7-5; Frank Brooks downed Bobby Friede of the Bison ranks 2-6, 7-5, 6-3; Harold Tyson scaled Mt. Olive's Mercer 6-0, 6-0.

In the doubles, it was Langston-Edwards over Powell-Gibson, 6-1, 6-4; Grantham-Adams singed Brooks-Miller, 6-0, 6-2; and Joseph-Mozingo defeated Wiggs-Mercer, 8-6, 6-3.

Tennis and Golf

The Wayne Community College tennis team have hit upon a winning streak. The players triumphed over Southeastern Community College (6-1), Mount Olive College (8-1), Wesleyan College (5-4), Wilmington College (6-3); and Lenoir Community College (6-1).

The Bisons' golf team defeated Southeastern (3-2) and Wilkes Community College (3-2). The team played against Mount Olive in two matches but were beat in each.

Park Being Cleared

Students of WCC, in an effort to beautify the campus, have organized a project called Sadie Hawkins Park. Development of this park will be left up entirely to student participation and the use of ideas, energy, and effort of interested people in the community. The first step to develop this area was a massive cleanup session scheduled for Saturday, April 17. At this first meeting the ground had to be leveled and cleaned. About 15 students assembled for the task. The following Saturdays are to be devoted to the development of this project until it is completed.

Thanks for Library Information

Ken Phillips feels that one of the major gripes at this college has been solved, but no one seems to really appreciate it or even realize it. He believes a well deserved thanks should be extended to the people in charge of the library for changing it from a popular place for uncontrollable socializing into the kind of place it really should be. Carrels were established in the Learning Resource Center to invite studying and eliminate too much socializing. It is now quiet enough in the library to study. The library set up is ideal. Let's hope students realize this and keep it that way.

Bison Club Organized

The first meeting of the Bison Club was held in the Student unionboard room at 4:00 p. m., April 13. Thirty-seven interested students and three interested administrators met and stated that their purpose was to support an active inter-collegiate athletic program. The officers elected are: President, Steve Stephenson; Vice President, Leslie Jones; Secretary, Carolyn Effler; and Treasurer, Jackie McMillan.

Three immediate projects have been initiated. A sock-hop, a car wash, and a rummage sale are being planned. The particulars of these projects are to be announced.

Learning to Speak Correctly

"Aah! Ooh!, Eee!, Ohh!" To the unknowing passer-by, this may sound like the dying throws of some poor aardvark, Wrong! The cries of anguish are actually speech exercises utilized by students in Mr. George Trautwein's Public Speaking class.

Mr. Trautwein has made his life around voice in one form or another, and there he seems to be at home.

Not only will there be heard strange noises, but if one listens carefully a great philosophical saying such as "Little Tommy Tuttle Tip Toes over the Table Top," may be heard wafting through the air.

According to Chairman, Ken Neal, enrollment in the Business Department is approximately 300. This expanding department offers a wide range of courses: Electronic Data Processing taught by Dr. Ronald Repka; Business Administration, Dr. David Rouse and Mrs. David McCall; Accounting Mr. Glen Smith, Mrs. Gloria Strickland, Mrs. Marie Johnson, and Mr. Bill Worrell; tradition courses of typing and shorthand taught by Mrs. Anne Waters and Mrs. Nan Bell. Mrs. Alyne Woodall adds the gracious touch to secretarial training with a course in Secretarial Charm. Mrs. Helen Lowdermilk teaches office machines programs. The Business Department is located in the recently enlarged building and occupies 8 of 10 rooms. Six spacious offices provide ample working room for the ten full-time members of the teaching staff and two part-time members.

h.i.s
SPORTSWEAR®
Safari Slack

THE 1880 SAFARI LOOK

From the folks who gave you fashion . . . h.i.s comes the Safari look in slacks. Flapped pockets, wide belt loops, and a gentle flare all add up to new excitement. In a wild range of fabrics and colors.

$8.00

Edwards
Young Mens Shop