POLICE AUXILIARY CLASS IS FIRST OF ITS KIND AT WCC

SNEA Now In Second Year's Work At WCC

The Wilkes Community College chapter of the Student National Education Association (SNEA) now enters its second year. The club again is to have Mrs. Jo Hendris, Mathematics Instructor, as its sponsor.

The SNEA is the pre-professional association for college and university students preparing to teach.

The ultimate goal of the SNEA is to have every student preparing to teach, to participate in the National Educational Association, the state and local associations, plus other special interest areas.

Last year the club sent Christmas cards to all servicemen from Wilkes County who were stationed in Vietnam. The club received many replies and thanks from the servicemen and their families.

The club also built a float for the Christmas in Wilkes Parade which was held in North Wilkesboro last year. The theme of the float, "Christmas morning" was carried out as members of the club were seated on the float during the parade.

On March 20-22 of last year, four members of the club at-

Students To Direct Problem Solving Research Projects

Amherst, Mass.-(I.P.)-A Ford Foundation-University of Massachusetts program will help a pioneering group of students to direct their own learning through a series of problem-solving research projects.

The program will be directed by Joseph Rhodes, president of the student body at the California Institute of Technology until his graduation last year. Rhodes was one of the leaders of a student-directed research program at Cal Tech that attacked the Southern California air pollution problem.

Some 35 men completed a Police Auxiliary Course Thursday, November 13 at Wilkes Community College.

The law enforcement course was a part of the Vocational Extension department here at the college and is the first class of this type at the college.

John Boyd, instructor in the law enforcement class stated that it was the best class he had ever taught and that attendance was very high and that there were hopes of having more such courses in the future.

Completing the course were James Burgess, Ralph Jolly, Robert Kyle, David Pendry, Kyle Gentry, James Bowers, Melvin Roberts, John Brewer, Briscoe Barber, Richard Dulin, Mitchell Wyatt, Dixon Harrison, Raymond
