SPRING FLING

The annual spring fling will be at the Elks Club on May 5. Students will dance to the beat of the fantastic Soul Serenadias. This event, the final dance of the year, will get underway at 8 p.m. and conclude at midnight.

SGA ELECTIONS

Circulation of petitions for SGA offices will begin April 24. Petitions may be obtained from Terry Jackson or Student Personnel Office. All petitions must be in one week from the beginning day (May 1) at 3 p.m. All interested students should make it a point to get involved.

CHESS CLUB

Bob Desautels heads up the WCC Chess Club. From the club's recent robin tournament, Richard Harrold emerged as winner with a score of 13 wins and 5 losses. Intra-club competition will continue as each member struggles to climb the ladder. New players are invited to join at any time, and instruction is available to those who want to improve their game.

Bob Gracely challenged the club in a simultaneous exhibition, playing twelve games at the same time. He emerged with 10 wins and two losses. Since he was not a member at the time, the games did not count for the record. Now that he has joined the club, he will be a strong contender for top spot.

Club members look forward to match play against "worthy opponents" from other schools. They plan a tournament for all players in Wilkes County.

SNEA NEWS

Rick Vandett

Apathy and inept leadership (not qualities one would expect of a teacher) seem to be the mark of the 1972-73 Student National Education Association of Wilkes County Student Organization of Aspiring Teachers.

Our lack of a well-defined goal probably hampered us from getting more involved. However, SNEA did attempt to brighten Christmas time for the Senior Citizens. We are involved with many new projects to be announced later.

The officers for this year are Rick Vandett, president; Charles Osborne, vice president; Bonnie Sherill, treasurer; Pam Jordan, program chairman, and Mrs. Hendrix, advisor.

AROUND COMMONS . . . SEE IF YOU CAN FIND YOURSELF

Instructors and directors responded to this question: "What is your favorite quotation?"

Here are the results.

Robert Hahn: Giving up smoking is easy. I know. I have done it 50 times myself. — Mark Twain

Brenda Moore: Before you die, whatever else you leave undone, once ride a wild horse into the sun. — Hannah Kahn

Diane Hepler: "Who are you?" said the caterpillar. This was not an encouraging opening for a conversation. Alice replied rather shyly, "I - - I hardly know, Sir, just at present - - at least I know who I was when I got up this morning, but I think I must have changed several times since then." — ALICE-IN-WONDERLAND

Robert McNeill: There is a divinity that shapes our ends, rough-hew them how we will. — HAMLET

Jay Anderson: Most people know HOW to say nothing, but few know WHEN.

Bill Moffett: We are all ignorant, only on different subjects. — Will Rogers

Roger Larson: It ain't necessarily so. — Gershwin.

Y. B. Johnson: Don't worry about the mule; load the wagon.

Tom Ayers: "Aw, shucks! people. "Antigone" has appeal. Seems like I never get

Gordon Wingard: I have come that you might have life, and have it more abundantly. — John 10

The unexamined life is not worth living. — Socrates

Jim Daniel: For too long we have taken our bounty of natural resources for granted. The time is now here when we must through."

of that which has been given us.

John Wiles: Grant me the courage to change the things I can, the grace to accept the things I can't, and the wisdom to know the difference. — St. Francis

Essie Hayes: I believe a leaf of grass is no less than the journey-work of the stars . . . And a mouse is miracle enough to stagger sextillions of infidels. — Whitman

Frank Bright: Recipe to keep the boss from finding out how lazy I am: "Always be working when he comes by."

Mary Nichols: Be not merely good; be good for something.

Jo Hendrix: As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he.

Nithi Klinkosum: And he who lives a hundred years, ignorant and unrestrained, a life of one day is better, if a man is wise and reflecting. — Siddhartha Gautumo (483 B.C.)

John Wayland: Let him who would be greatest among you be servant of all. — Bible

Joe Austell: The most important things teachers have in school are students.

James Vance: Reason is better than superstition. Reason shall triumph.

John Berry: The most important ability than one can learn or develop in the educational process is the ability to think.

Nancy McInnis: The greatest oak was once a little nut that held its ground.

Ford Rash: If you give all you have that's the best you can do.

Hugh Hash: If it's worth doing, it's worth doing well.

Students and staff members, do you have a favorite quotation?

If you do, we would be happy to print them in a later edition.
