Bowling anyone? Last year, we tried chicken bowling; on Tuesday, November 16th we moved on up to turkey bowling. If you tried it, you know it is not easy. Give a pat on the back to our winners: 1st place-Jonathan Worley, 2nd place-Casey Clodfelter, & 3rd place-Brandon Chavers. Even if you did not bowl, I hope you took advantage of the free apple pies and hot apple cider that were being given away.

Scott Johnson and Chad Treadway took turkey bowling on the road Wednesday, November 17th. Ashe Campus winners—1st place-Fred Goodman, 2nd place-James Testerman, & 3rd place-Donna Ashley. Alleghany Campus winners—1st place-Carol Swenk, 2nd place-Angela Sexton, & 3rd place-Diane Brinegar.

An extra special thanks goes to the Housekeeping Staff for all their hard work. On Wednesday, November 17th, they were served lunch by the students in the culinary program and Chef Kimrey Jordan. Our Angel Tree is now up in the Student Center lobby. Anyone wishing to obtain the name of a child, please pick one off the tree. Christmas gift ideas are listed.

If you haven't already picked up your ticket for the Charlotte Hornets Wheelchair Basketball Game happening on Monday, December 6th at 6:30, hurry and get one today. See Scott Johnson in Student Services or just ask an SGA member where you can get a ticket. All proceeds from ticket sales will be given to the team for their travel expenses. Come on out and just enjoy the game or perhaps you may want to play in the half-time show. Either way, it's going to be an exciting night of hoops, cheers, and talent.

The culinary program will be preparing a variety of scrumptious desserts to tantalize the tastebuds on Tuesday, December 7th. Stop by the Student Commons to enjoy some sweets between classes.

Our Holiday Craft Workshop is scheduled for Wednesday, December 8th. Due to funding and the type of craft being done, space is limited, so sign-up early for a session. If you do sign-up, then please attend the session.
