Come With Me
—By Wendy Foster

Come with me and be my love
And we all the pleasures prove
That valleys, groves, hills, and fields
Woods, or steepy mountain yields

And we shall sit side by side
As we watch the turning tide
By shallow rivers to whose fall
As we hear the cardinals call

And I shall make thee a bed of roses
There where the sound of love composes
A glass of wine, and a song
Will make the passion last all day long

With 'this' woman by your side
Thou shall grow with pride
Mine hand in yours, for ever more
Eternally tied by thine lord

My eyes are locked together with yours
And from you my love implores
If these pleasures may thee move
Come with me and be my love

The angels will sing and rejoice on high
And they shall dance among the skies
If these delights thy mind may move
Then live with me and be my love
