ATHLETICS

TRINITY-CAROLINA TRIP A FAILURE.

On last Tuesday night, Feb. 29, Guilford met Trinity in a rather one-sided game on Trinity's floor. Our boys were somewhat handicapped on Trinity's small floor since they had practiced on our large floor. The game though was somewhat interesting and probably not quite so one-sided as a 61 to 23 score would indicate.

Smith and Semans, forwards for Guilford, played the best game for the home team. For Trinity, Martin and Ferrell were easily the leading men. Martin threw thirteen field and five foul goals, while Ferrell threw six field goals in the first half.

From Trinity the team motored over to Chapel Hill the next day to meet the Carolina boys in the last game of the season. The game with the University boys was one of the best games of the whole season, whether at home or away from home. It seemed that the Guilford boys entered the game with the Carolina boys with better spirit than they showed in the Trinity game, but with that they were overcome by a score of 40 to 26.

The line-up for the Trinity game was as follows:

Guilford.	Trinity.

Semans..... l.f. ....	Ferrell
Mendenhall... c. ....	Noyes
Walser..... r.g. ....	Martin

The line-up for Carolina game:

She congratulated the Association on its outlook for the future and bade us plan our work so that it will be a source of praise for the girls who celebrate the next jubilee.

At the regular business meeting on the first Thursday in March, the following officers were elected for next year:

Vice-President—Ethel Speas.

Y. M. C. A. Led By Dr. Hobbs

The meeting Thursday evening was one of the best this year. Dr. Hobbs spoke to us on "The Cause of Righteousness." He read for our Scripture lesson a part of the ninth chapter of Romans.

"If we stake our lives on righteousness and on Christ," he said, "we need not fear for we will stand for all that is noble and good. This then is our duty.

"You as students must believe in the truth, for it is one of the fundamental principles of the Christian religion. It would be a good idea for you as students to say, I am not going to believe a thing, unless there are more reasons for believing it than there are for not believing it. Knowledge, manliness, heroism and everything that is noble and great in life has a place in the Christian religion.

"We may have our faith strengthened so that we may be more determined to live the Christ life, for we know when we are following him that we are following the truest of the true and the strongest of the strong.

The world is full of evil; war, drunkenness, and vice of every sort are all around us. We know this and do not have to be told about it; but do we feel commissioned to go out and try to destroy the evil forces? There are more reasons for living for Christ than living in opposition to Christ, and there is much evidence to establish this fact.

"It is true that we will make blunders, but we must be anchored somewhere, and I want you to be anchored on the truth. Be firm under all circumstances; for, if God is for us, who can be against us. I do not care what your conditions are, I know that he is with you. Then give your wills over to God and say I am not going to be moved by anything for He is my guide. Be sure that your faith does not waver and that you are in the hands of Christ."

PERSONALS.

Leap-Year Social Gives Girls Chance

One day last week Miss Louise informed the girls that there would be a leap-year social at Memorial Hall on Saturday evening, and that contrary to the usual custom, the young ladies would be given the privilege of sending dates to their gentlemen friends.

By Thursday afternoon several girls found that they were real composers of verse, so with all modesty laid aside, they began sending the dates, some written in verse form, some in French and German, while those who had the "nerve" wrote in plain, clear written English. But the most exciting time was when the answers began to arrive. Many were turned aside with the words "Too late, too late," but they tried again, remembering that Shakespeare had said, "Our doubts are traitors, and make us lose the good we oft might win, by fearing to attempt."

When the students arrived at Memorial Hall, the girls who had not enough courage to ask some young men to accompany them, tried every possible means to find suitable partners. Games which carried out the leap-year idea were then started. Popcorn, peanuts and candy were abundantly distributed to the bashful couples.

Every one seemed to realize that leap-year comes not once a year, but only once in four years and each girl took advantage of this social because they knew that such an opportunity came only one time in a college career and several of them would not have such a chance again while at Guilford College.
