COX WINS FROM ARCHDALE IN SECOND SOCCER GAME.

The second of the Cox-Archdale soccer games was played Thursday afternoon. Hobbs field was not in very good condition for the game on account of the recent rains. After Lineberry had rolled it out, however, it was in very good condition for the game.

Archdale was unable to put out a full team but a sufficient number of men were mustered from other sources. The game was fast and snappy, there being several brilliant plays. Prof. Woosley and Grissom played good ball for Cox and Prof. Brinton starred for Archdale.

PROF. WHITE DIES SUDDENLY

prayer; and the Men's Glee Club concluded the service by a beautifully rendered hymn with solo by Mr. Fitzgerald. The interment was made in the family lot in New Garden burying ground and the services were concluded at the grave-side.

The Senior class acted as flower bearers and the grave was literally banked with the floral offerings of those who knew and loved the deceased.

The honorary pallbearers were C. P. Frazier and Jeremiah Cox, of Greensboro; W. T. Parker and Jos. D. Cox, of High Point; J. F. Davis, S. G. Hodgkin, J. S. Knight and Thos. Wakefield, of Guilford College, while the active pallbearers were all members of Professor White's Baraca class: Carl Knight, William Nelson, Charles McKoin, Carl Younts, Walter Coble and Warren Mitchell, Guilford College.

Professor White was born at Belvidere, N. C., June 22, 1855, to Rufus and Lydia Wilson White, the eldest of their eleven children. Though a boy of delicate constitution he was possessed of a vigorous mentality and his education, begun at Belvidere Academy, was continued at Earlham and Haverford. He graduated from the latter college in 1878 in the same class with Cyrus P. Frazier, one of Guilford's trustees.

He began teaching at the age of sixteen and for this profession he was especially gifted as recognized by the host of students who have come under his influence. In his early manhood he taught at Belvidere and Sunbury Academies both in this state. Then for eight years he was principal of Central Academy at Plainfield, Indiana. The rigors of the northern winters forced his return to North Carolina in 1892, and the following year he became treasurer of Guilford College and a teacher here which position he has held continuously from that time.

In 1880 he married Esther A. White, daughter of Thomas N. and Lydia White, of Rich Square, Ind., and resided at Belvidere. To them was born a son who died in infancy a few months after his mother's death.

In September, 1886, he married Mary E. White, oldest daughter of James and Jemima W. White, of Raysville, Ind. To them were born two sons each of whom died in early life.

He is survived by his wife, Mary E. W. White, his father, Rufus White, now 89 years of age, his sisters, Ann E. W. Peele and Cora E. White, and his four brothers, Walter, Charles F., William R., and Henry A. White.

In his college duties as a financial manager he was always methodical and conservative and as a teacher painstaking and sympathetic. He was a good citizen of the community and stood for uprightness and progress. He was a birthright member of the Society of Friends and early in life devoted himself to the service of the Master. In the Yearly Meeting and in his local meeting he was faithful and steadfast and held many positions of responsibility. He was a member of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Committees for many years. Ever since the Yearly Meeting has been held at Guilford College he has each year supervised the business arrangements. He has always been actively associated with Bible School work and at the time of his death was teacher of a Baraca class enrolling over forty young men by whom he was held in deep respect.

In the church, in the Yearly Meeting, in the community, in the college, his loss will be felt deeply.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS.

Juniors vs. Seniors—Juniors Victorious.

Much enthusiasm is now being shown amongst the girls in basketball. Vigorous practice has been going on for the past few weeks preparatory to class games. The first of the series was played Friday afternoon, February 16th, when the Juniors met the Seniors. Neither team was made up altogether of class members, yet both were pretty well matched, the score being 10-8 in favor of the Juniors. Maude Lassiter for the Seniors and Addie Morris for the Juniors did some splendid playing. The line-up was as follows:

E. Hockett . . . . .	C. . . . .	O. Goode
M. Lassiter . . . . .	R.F. . . . .	T. Moton
D. Moore . . . . .	L.F. . . . .	A. Morris
E. Speas . . . . .	R.G. . . . .	B. Pike
H. Armstrong . . . . .	L.G. . . . .	G. Cronk

Substitute: Thelma Steele. Substitutions: Pike for Moton. Field goals, Lassiter, 3; Moton, 1; Pike, 1; Morris, 2. Foul goals, Lassiter 2; Moton 1; Morris 1.

The other game will be played Tuesday afternoon when the Freshmen will meet the Juniors.

REV. ERDMAN TO VISIT GUILFORD.

Rev. Walter C. Erdman, of Korea, China, now at home on furlough, will visit Guilford on March 12th and 13th in the interests of the work of the Christian Associations. His topic will be "Missions." Mr. Erdman is a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary and has been doing some very effective work in Korea under the Presbyterian Board of Missions. The Christian Associations are exceptionally fortunate in having him visit this institution for he is a man with a message for students. While here he will meet with the cabinets, missionary committees and Student Volunteers, and he will be very glad to have personal talks with large number of students; also he will address the entire student body. The time of the address will be announced later.

Misses Grace and Tama Burke spent the week end in Greensboro with Miss Grace Goldston.

Mr. Archie Riddick, '16, spent Saturday and Sunday at the college.
