SECOND FLU OUT- BREAK NOW OVER

All Patients Getting Along Nicely.

The second flu outbreak at Guilford is now apparently over as no new cases have developed for over a week and a half. All the cases were fortunately light and no serious complications have occurred. Since January 10th when the vanguard arrived at the infirmary 50 patients have been successfully cared for. At the present writing only a bare half dozen are under the immediate care of the nurses. The success in handling the epidemic has been due to the untiring efforts of Miss Laura Worth, Dr. Williams and Miss Benbow, ably assisted by Leslie Barrett, Grady McBane and Joe Taylor. Assistant nurses have been employed both at the Cox Hall infirmary and New Garden. Dr. Williams in the midst of his labors was conquered by the disease he had so often conquered, but present reports are that he is getting along well. His Guilford patients sent him two and a half dozen carnations in appreciation of his services. As the former outbreak was confined entirely to the men this one was almost altogether a feminist movement, Hugh Moore, David White and Herman Raiford being the only masculine representatives.

NEW STUDENTS.

Since things in general are assuming a more natural aspect and the abnormal conditions of the times are again arighting themselves, we are pleased to note the arrival on the campus of quite a number of new students and many former students of Guilford.

Up to the present date there have been eighteen, or nineteen new registrants for the spring term. Many of these are boys returning from the military camps, resuming their college work upon receiving their discharge from service. To the old and new students alike, Guilford extends her heartiest welcome and appreciates their interest in this institution. It is evident that with their presence and enthusiastic cooperation, the college will be greatly benefited.

Among those who have returned to Guilford are Roger Kiser, Herbie Williard, Norman Fox, Arthur Lineberry, Jesse Wilson, Willie Lee Rudd. The new student brigade is composed of the following: Zenobia Evangeline Bagwell, Myrtle Edgerton, Frank McGee, Frank Casey, Charles Stratford; Patton, Williams, Kenneth Clegg, John Gurney Frazier, Phal Hodgin, J. Spot Taylor.

Saturday evening from 6:30 to 8 Prof. and Mrs. Anscombe entertained in their apartments a number of friends. Those enjoying this delightful occasion were Misses Grace Taylor, Elizabeth Mallonee, Kathleen Simpson, Luna Taylor, Naomi Tomlinson, Tom Stewart, Mary Dixon and Messrs. John Taylor, George Jarvis, and Spottswood Taylor, Jr.

FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN MAKING PROGRESS

Two Quarterly Meetings Have So Far Been Canvassed.

It is rather premature to make any definite statements regarding the campaign to raise $200,000 for Guilford College, but after two weeks of canvassing President Binford and his assistants feel quite encouraged. So far the campaign has been confined to a canvas of the members of Deep River and New Garden Quarterly meeting of Friends. High Point, Greensboro and Winston-Salem have all responded heartily but as the canvas has not been entirely completed as yet in these localities no announcements can be made at present.

Considerable enthusiasm was manifested in High Point and several members there propose that the quota be doubled. H. D. Lane, treasurer of Penn College, who was largely instrumental in raising $400,000 for that institution has come from Oskaloosa, Iowa, to assist with the work. Henry Bogue, a former Penn student with experience in canvassing, is also assisting. The future of Guilford is now at stake and the overwhelming importance of the struggle means that every friend of the college must go over the top.

THE WINSTON HIGHS DEFEAT GUILFORD SECOND TEAM

On the evening of January 18th the Guilford team, composed mostly of second team men, met the Winston High School basket ball team on the Y. M. C. A. floor in their city. It was largely a practice game for our boys, and the players selected for Guilford had never worked together on the home floor.

The Winston team was fast and well-balanced. The fact that we lost the game by a small margin doesn't speak so well for their team, since the court is probably the smallest in the State, and this gave them the advantage. The Winston players have never lost a game on their home floor.

Frazier played the strong game for the Guilford team, and showed that he is to rank with the best forwards in the State. Guilford's lineup was as follows: Forwards, Stafford, captain, Taylor, McFarland; center, Frazier; guards, Anderson and Cox. Taylor was substituted for McFarland in second half.

GUILFORD LOSES TO GREENSBORO Y. M. C. A.

First Game of Season Lost by Score of 39-24.

One of the fastest and most hotly contested games ever seen on the local floor was played between the local quint and the Greensboro Y. M. C. A. The Y. boys have the reputation of being one of the best teams in the State and enroll in their number some famous players of wide reputation. The Guilford team was much lighter than their opponents, but they played at top speed all the time and the issue of the game was in doubt until very near the end. Guilford was unable to work much combination due partly to their inability to get the tip off.

Jonas and Frazier starred for Guilford, while Lewis and Kellenberger excelled for Greensboro. The score at the end of the first half was 19 to 16 in favor of the visitors and the final score was 39 to 24 with Greensboro at the big end. The game was marked by the small number of fouls.

The line up:
Guilford Greensboro
Jonas ..... r. f. ... Kellenberger
Frazier ..... l. f. .... Lewis
Taylor ..... c. .... McCauley
Anderson ..... r. g. .... Carson
Stafford ..... l. g. .... Breeden
Field goals, Taylor 1, Jonas 5, Frazier 6, Lewis 7, Kellenberger 4, Carson 1, Beecher 1. Foul goals, McCauley 3.

GET THE OLD "PEP" READY FOR WAKE FOREST THURSDAY P. M.

Guilford's first intercollegiate home game of the season will be played Thursday night and the team is entitled to the most strenuous and frenzied support possible from the college body. Get busy and show how you feel about the matter. The team is getting into shape, but a whole lot more must be done before the proper form is reached. In Jonas and Frazier the varsity possesses two first class forwards, who make up in speed what they lack in weight. Rice, Dye and Robinson are able reserves for these positions. Joe Taylor will probably be the selection for centre with Macon in reserve. Joe has not been able to get in much practice yet but he makes up in hard work what he lacks in experience. Moore showed signs of promise, but the flu has knocked him out. Raiford and Anderson will probably serve as guards, though Cox and Stafford are close competitors. A lot of hard practice is needed if a winning team is to be turned out from men without previous experience in intercollegiate basket ball, but the right kind of spirit and support from the student body will do the work.

DR. W. S. HALL ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Famous Author and Lecturer Pays Helpful Visit to Guilford.

Dr. W. S. Hall, widely known as a physician, author and lecturer, paid an inspiring visit to Guilford last week end. Owing to the fact that the flu epidemic was just then at its height his audiences were unfortunately small, but the few who were able to hear him were amply repaid.

Dr. Hall gave two talks on Saturday night, one to the men and the other to the women. His subject was Sex Hygiene and as he is the leading authority in the country on matters of this sort his hearers received a great deal of valuable information from a source which they knew to be thoroughly trustworthy. Sunday morning he spoke to a mixed gathering in the Young Women's Christian Association room. His subject was "Man's Upward Progress" and his hearers were so deeply interested that the two hours seemed very short. Beginning with a discussion on the age of the human race he then took up the probable condition of our ancestors 1000 to 3500 years ago, during the first stage of progress that of savagery. These men lived in caves by the waters side, used rafts and worshiped fetishes. Man could then be described as "man the mate." He and his wife looked out for themselves and each had the same tasks. There was no specialization in food getting and housekeeping. One was as strong physically as the other. In the next stage, that of barbarism, about 3500 to 1500 years ago, man lived in fortress dwellings. He was always at war or the chase. His main business was killing. His raft became a canoe and the embellishment of his weapons began art. Frequent wars reduced the number of men and polygamy was instituted. This was the age of "man the master." Woman became a household drudge, and her work was confined to spinning and cooking. As man was primarily a blood shedder he became cruel. Gradually woman became more and more necessary and as a home-maker man learned to love her. This brought on the next step that of "chivalry," which lasted from 1500 to 300 years ago. Then man became the protector and lover. Society in the latest sense of the term was instituted. The fourth and last stage is that in which we are living now.

The first two stages were those of egoism. The last two those of altruism. In the barbaric age the code was "might makes right." In the age of chivalry it was "right makes might." The first was the code of the Germans who exhibited many traits of the barbaric age. We are already on the eve of the next great stage which will express itself in terms of a "World Democracy."
