NUMBER 3

GUILFORD GAINING IN THE COUNTIES

Thirty-Two Represented in Enrollment—Gain of Methodists.

Thirty-two counties of the Old North State and six other states are represented by the two hundred and twenty-five students who have registered up to the time of going to press. This is an increase of eight counties and fifty-five students over the 1917 mark. Alamance, Stokes, Davidson, Rockingham, Yadkin and Buncombe counties all show gains over both 1916 and 1917. Guilford county is not back to the high mark in 1916. Randolph is only holding her own—18 in both 1917 and 1919 against 24 in 1916 yet Trinity High School sent more graduates to this year's Freshman class than any other high school except Guilford. With the further expansion of Trinity we hope to find a still larger group coming to us from that county. Forsyth and Chatham show normal gains over 1917 but like Guilford are not up to the 1916 mark. The same is true of Surry which shows the biggest slump since 1916. Perquimans has fallen back almost to the 1916 level following the exceptional showing in 1917.*

All but about thirty of the students mentioned their church affiliation. Ten of the latter specified "none." The remaining one hundred and ninety-four are distributed as follows:

	1919	1917	1916
Friends	100	77	68
Methodists	52	47	64
Baptist	18	10	11
Presbyterian	12	6	5
Christian	5	1	3
Lutheran	2	2	0
Moravian	2	1	2
Episcopalian	1	1	3
Others	2	1	0

Of ninety-three new students of whom we have data thirty-four have high school diplomas. Guilford graded school sends five graduates; Trinity high school, four; Jamestown high school three, and Sylvan, Highfalls and Archer (Fla.) each two. The average age of fifty-three of the new boys is 18.87 years, that of thirty-seven of the new girls is 18.11 years. Three years ago the combined average of boys and girls was 18.1. As might be expected the average age shows an increase on account of the war.

The following is a summary by counties showing variations since 1916:

	1919	1917	1916
Guilford	61	58	65
Randolph	18	18	24
Alamance	17	14	14
Wayne	11	6	7
Stokes	10	2	6
Forsyth	9	6	10
Chatham	8	7	10
Davidson	8	6	7
Rockingham	8	7	0

THE AMPHION TRIO GIVES VARIED PROGRAM

All Guilfordians and many friends of the college assembled in Memorial Hall on Saturday evening, October 4, for the first number of the Lyceum course which was presented by the Amphion Trio. Although the crowd was anticipating something fine, the varied and excellent program was beyond their fondest hopes. The trio consisted of Mr. Gareld S. Pell, tenor and water color artist; Miss Anna Ellis, dramatic, soprano, and Clifford A. Foote, baritone, reader, pianist and manager.

The first part of the program consisted of trios, duets, solos, character songs and readings. The entertainment opened with, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling." Other numbers of the evening were "May," Miss Ellis and Mr. Pell; "Any Place is Heaven If You Are Near Me," and "Marjory Grey," Mr. Pell; an "Echo Song" and "Fulfillment," Miss Ellis; "The Yellow Violet," and "When the Ships Come Sailing In," Miss Ellis and Mr. Pell. Worthy of mention was the contrast given by Messrs. Pell and Foote between the songs that used to be sung around the square piano, and those sung today around the upright one. "Whispering Hope," was used as an illustration of the former and one of the modern rags the latter.

The musical numbers were interspersed with humorous readings by Mr. Foote. Among which were: "Taint No Use to Argue if Wifie Says 'Tis So;" "Spring Fever," and "House Cleaning." Mr. Foote's ability in representing the hen pecked husband, the down trodden wife, the minister, the schoolmistress and Little Johnny Jenkins kept the audience in roars of laughter.

The second part of the program consisted of three numbers. First was a Spanish love song given by Miss Ellis and Mr. Pell. This number was made much more effective by the splendid costuming. Next Mr. Pell drew a water color sketch of a snow scene. By the rapidity and accuracy with which he worked one could judge that he was a skillful artist. The evening's entertainment was ended by an Indian scene. Very tender and impressive was the story running through it. An Indian squaw heard the voice of the chief in the distance. With ear strained attentively she answered him with a lullaby. She could tell by the sound of his voice that he was approaching. Finally he arrived and while they stood together Mr. Foote read an Indian poem entitled "Maccasins." The charm and grace portrayed by Miss Ellis in this scene showed that she had true ability.

Guilford College is indeed fortunate in having the Lyceum course given here this year, and it is hoped that much benefit will be derived from it.

QUAKERS HOLD WOFFORD ELEVEN TO A TIE SCORE

On a hot dusty field and in weather that was more suitable for baseball than football, Coach Doak's eleven held the South Carolina Methodists team to a 6-6 score at Spartanburg Saturday. The Quakers had evidently gone through a week of hard drilling since the game with A. & E. last week because their team work as well as individual playing showed decided signs of improvement.

Wofford's heavier line enabled them to make their one touch down by the weight and push route. Guilford however outplayed them in the finer points of the game, and in broken field running. The most spectacular plays of the game were Pulliams 40 yard broken field run through Wofford's line at the kick off in the beginning of second half, and Barnard's 85 yard dash with an intercepted forward pass for a touch down.

The heat was so intense that quarters were limited to eight and ten minutes. Even with this limited time both teams were considerably exhausted before the whistle finally blew for the finish.

The game by quarters follows: Captain Barnard won the toss up and elected to defend the south goal. Bony White received the first kick off, slightly fumbled it but managed to recover and make considerable gain down the field before being stopped. Guilford then by an end run and several line plunges, make about twenty yards down the field before finally losing the ball on an intercepted forward pass. Wofford failed to make the necessary ten yards and kicked. Balance of quarter continued in the same saw-saw fashion. Neither side having much advantage. One veteran looker on was heard to remark that it was as pretty an exhibition of offensive and defensive foot ball as he had seen in a long time.

In the second Guilford came back with pep and spirit but failed to do very much. The Methodists gained some little ground but lost most of it through penalties for off side plays.

In the beginning of the second half Wofford kicked to Guilford. Pulliam received it and made a good 35 yards on a broken field run. Guilford here worked a forward pass for another ten yards and then lost the ball on another intercepted one, by which Wofford netted 20 yards around Guilford's left end. Guilford held them here though and got the ball after Wofford made a short punt. Guilford made some gain but was penalized 5 yards for off sides. Made seven by White's line plunge and Dog Rice's end run. Lost ball on downs. Wofford now had the ball in Guilford's 40 yard line and here uncorked our offensive which drove the pigskin into the far left corner and finally

SCRUBS LOSE TO WINSTON HIGH

Guilford scrubs lost a spirited, but yet not brilliant or spectacular game, to Winston high school eleven Saturday, October 4. The scrubs seemed to have the high school boys well under control during a greater part of the first half.

After winning the toss the scrubs received the kick and advanced the ball, chiefly by McBane's plunges, to Winston's twenty yard line and these lost the ball on a fumble.

The Quaker scrubs started into the second quarter with a dash. Johnson recovered the ball on Winston's fumble. Two plunges by McBane and Stout netted the scrubs a gain of 26 yards and placed the ball on Winston's five yard line. Bulla scored the touch down. Gilbreath failed to kick goal. Winston advanced the ball from kick off to Guilford's forty yard line. Davis for Winston soon got away with a long run around left end and carried the ball thirty yards to a touch down. Winston failed at goal.

In the second half Winston received, carried the ball to Guilford's 20 yard line, and there lost it on downs due to the stiffened resistance of the scrub line. The scrubs failed to make first down partially because of a penalty. Winston carried the point to within one foot of the goal line where he was stopped by Johnson just as the whistle blew for the end of the third quarter.

Winston scored her second touch down in the beginning of the third quarter, but again failed at goal. During the remainder of the quarter the ball passed from the possession of one team to the other a number of times on downs and fumbles, but it at no time threatened either goal line.

Davis was Winston's most effective man. In the scrub back field McBane and Stout were most effective, while Hayworth, B. Shore, and Johnson in the line observe mention.

REST.

Rest is not quitting
The busy career;
Rest is the fitting
Of self to one's sphere.

'Tis the brook's motion,
Clear without strife;
Fleeting to ocean,
After its life.

'Tis loving and serving
The highest and best;
'Tis onward, unswerving,
And this is true rest.

Goethes.
