

IS THERE DUST

ON YOUR BIBLE?

Leslie Barrett in his talk to the Y. M. C. A. last Thursday evening emphasized the importance of reading the Bible.

The speaker said that we do not appreciate the Bible as we should. It is so easy for us to put our Bibles upon the shelf and let them lie there. We do not realize what a great mistake we are making when we do this. The Bible is the greatest book of all ages,—it is the book of books. The Sages of the Bible are the wisest of all times. But the Bible is no old book, every time we read it we learn something new or get some new inspiration. Christians have for their foundation the Bible. It is the medium between God and his children.

We as college students must develop our spirit, mind, and body. Our parents sent us to college to develop these three faculties. This is the purpose of a college education. But reading the Bible is not all. That in itself will not do us much good. We must apply what we find in it. We must put into practice the lessons we learn from Bible like the story of Jonathan and David, the story of Joseph, Ruth and Naomi, the ten commandments, and the sermon on the mount. In reading these we cannot fail to get inspirations to do better and nobler things each day. The Bible is food for our souls. Let us make use of it and not lay our Bibles upon our shelves and never read them.

across the goal. Wofford failed to make the kick.

Guilford's touch down was made in the fourth frame through a most spectacular 85 yard run by Captain Barnard, who intercepted Wofford's third and last attempted forward pass. Jim was on the extreme right edge of the field all the way down but managed to stay inside and at the same time out distance the whole Wofford back field which was trying to overtake him. Guilford failed by the merest fraction to kick the goal. Wofford came back with a pretty strong attack but Guilford held them successfully to the score as it then stood.

Guilford's team all played exceptionally good ball but Rice, Barnard, Cox, Anderson, Pulliam and Stafford were probably the most aggressive.
