

THE GUILFORDIAN

CABINET GIRLS ATTEND RALLY

Salem Girls Are Gracious Hosts.

The Y. W. C. A. of Salem College, having caught a glimpse of the goodness the future holds in store, invited six of the cabinet members of the Y. W. C. A. of North Carolina State College, six of those of the Greensboro College for Women, and six of those of Guilford College to attend a Y. W. C. A. rally on November eighth and ninth at Salem College. Nothing but pleasant anticipation could follow such a cordial invitation as we cabinet members received.

Saturday afternoon, November eighth, the representatives of the three colleges named above found themselves at the station at Winston, where they were met by the cabinet members of Salem Y. W. C. A., who carried them by automobile to the college campus. Here we met our respective hostesses and were assigned rooms. Soon we were ushered to the Y. W. C. A. room, where we were officially welcomed to Salem. Here delicious sandwiches and tea were served. In short order we were back in the automobiles and were being rapidly taken out of the town limits. Soon the quiet beauty of the R. J. Reynolds estate greeted our eyes. First, the church and manse, then the machine shop, the blacksmith shop, the garage, the cattle and dairy barns, the flower garden with its lovely hothouses, the beautiful lake, and the sixty-room bungalow topping the summit of the hill—all we passed in rapid succession. From here we went to the Country Club, and then back to the college.

After supper we attended a reception, where we met the president and faculty of the college and more of the student body. Refreshments consisting of mints, Neopolitan cream and salted peanuts were attractively served. Following this a dance was given at the "gym." Then we again assembled and made many new friendships and renewed old ones while light refreshments were again served.

Sunday morning the Seniors proved to everyone their culinary ability by the delicious breakfast served. At eleven o'clock we attended services at the Moravian church.

In the afternoon a technical cabinet meeting was held. Here many phases of association work were discussed and much inspiration and knowledge gained. Not the least interesting of the afternoon's entertainment was a visit to the building of the Wachovia Historical Society. Here we found many old instruments and curios, some of which dated back to the very first settlers of America.

Our entertainment culminated in

NOVEMBER ELEVENTH FITTINGLY CELEBRATED

Guilford Students Commemorate the First Anniversary of Peace.

On Tuesday morning, November 11, Guilford students assembled in Memorial Hall to commemorate the first anniversary of peace. Although the celebration was quiet and without a great amount of display, it was impressive and everyone present felt a thrill of patriotism as the Guilford boys from "over there" filed in and took their places at the front. And the patriotic glow deepened and burned brighter as the notes of "The Marseillaise" and "America" pealed forth.

President Binford began the exercises by a short talk on the significance of the date November 11. This was followed by talks from boys who were in France at the time of the signing of the armistice, and even if there were not so many present who were there at that time many phases of army work were represented. D. D. Shields, Cameron and Paul Rayle as spokesmen for the men at the front gave an account of the effect of peace upon those who were fighting at the time. A brief outline of what the armistice meant to those in reconstruction work was given by Clyde Shore. The audience next caught a glimpse of what the Y. M. C. A. tried to do for the boys in camp and of the manner in which the work was done. The summary of the Y. M. C. A. work by Prof. J. W. Pancoast was followed by an account of the Friends reconstruction work given by Richard Hobbs. Prof. Mark Balderston spoke of the advance in ideals which had taken place between last November 11 and this November 11. The last number was a tribute, given by Dr. L. L. Hobbs, to the Guilford men who made the supreme sacrifice that the world might be free for democracy, namely: Wayne Miller, Wallace Dalton, Alfred Jones, Ezra Moore and Dalton Smith.

Returned service men present at the celebration were: Representing the army, D. D. S. Cameron, R. A. Lineberry, Paul Rayle, Robert Bulla; representing the navy, L. Dorrity, L. Odom, Harry Johnson and W. A. Nutting; representing the Friends Reconstruction and Y. M. C. A., Marvin Shore, Clyde Shore, Thompson Zachary, Prof. Mark Balderston, Coach Robert Doak and Prof. J. W. Pancoast.

Mrs. Augustin W. Blair, of New Brunswick, N. J., is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Hobbs.

FAST BASEBALL ON HOBBS FIELD

Guilford Girls Exhibit Prowess on the Diamond.

Last Thursday afternoon the Freshman and Sophomore girls defeated the Juniors and Seniors in a close game by the score of 10 to 12.

Though baseball is a new sport to the denizens of New Garden and Founders, the teams showed excellent skill and fine team work. Several double plays were made by each team. The game began with the Juniors and Seniors in the field. The underclassmen, through the excellent batting of Harmon, Macon and Carroll, succeeded in scoring three runs. The upperclassmen then came to bat and greeted the delivery of Nell Carroll with an avalanche of hits which netted seven runs.

During the second inning the Juniors and Seniors held the opposing team from scoring by the splendid twirling of Mary Dixon and managed to score one more run in their half of the inning, following a three-base hit by Donna McBane. The second inning closed with the score: Upperclassmen 8, underclassmen 3. The Juniors and Seniors were not allowed a single run after the third inning, due to the excellent team work of the Sophomores and Freshmen. The latter by consistent stick work and base running gradually crept up on the big lead of their opponents and finally passed them by scoring three runs in the finish inning of the game.

Nell Carroll scored the greatest number of runs for the Freshmen and Sophomores, while Dovie Hayworth scored the greatest number

LET'S GET ELON STUDENTS AND ALUMNI

Show Your College Spirit at Cone Park Saturday Afternoon.

The game with Elon College Saturday afternoon, November 22, at Greensboro will give the Guilford student body and alumni a chance to fulfill a desire that has been expressed many times this fall—that of seeing Coach Doak's eleven in action against another college team. There should be no slacking back at this time, for the team needs every ounce of support they can get in order to win the game. Cheer Leaders Barrett, White and Taylor have been practicing songs and yells all the week; and it is hoped the girls will come in on this part of the program, too. Every student should be at this game to lend his voice and enthusiasm to the team. The Elonites are coming up in force, we hear. They are going to bring their band along with practically the entire student body. The Normal and G. C. W. girls are also coming out for the game. Don't fail the team now! Everybody BE THERE!!

GUILFORD LOSES TO WAKE FOREST

Baptists Win Against the Stubborn Fighting Defense of Their Lighter Opponents.

The Guilford eleven failed to work off the Jonah that has been on them this season when it lost the game at Wake Forest Saturday by a 65-0 score. The size of the score, however, does not by any means indicate the quality of the game played by the Guilfordians. They played a fighting game from start to finish as the amount of time called for by Wake Forest in which to allow the men to recover from the hard tackles the Quakers had given them will show. Tom Cox, L. Tremaine and Babe Shore did mighty good work in the line. The Baptists failed almost altogether to make any gains thru their stonewall defense. Jimmy Pulliam also did some mighty fast work as left end. He was down

ANIMATED LIBRARY IN NEW GARDEN HALL

Picturesque Costumes Give Clues to Book Lovers.

The social which took place at New Garden Hall Saturday night was one of special interest. As a rule socials of the usual type are rather monotonous—to some people—but not so with this one. Everyone seemed to have a good time. We realized for the first time that Guilford actually possesses some real literary artists.

Each girl was dressed to represent some book. The books ranged from Evangeline and Maude Muller to the books of the present day, such as "Over the Top" and "The Red Cross Girl of Belgium." When the boys arrived they went to the librarian and registered a book. Each was very excited and was wondering what girl he would get; but soon his curiosity was put to an end for the librarian brought forth his favorite book. Each boy had only twenty minutes in which to read his book and then he had to return her to the stack room. Some of the boys proved to be wonderful readers, and by the expressions some of their faces they seemed to enjoy their books very much. Some of the books which seemed to be in the greatest demand were: "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," "Rebecca of Sunny Brook Farm," "Mother," "Dawn," "Old Rose and Silver," "Red and Black" and "Black Beauty."

After each book had been read two or three times everyone was left to do as he or she pleased. In every corner boys and girls were soon coupled off and the hall was filled with low mumuring sounds.

Ten o'clock came too soon for everybody and couples parted with reluctance.
