VOLUME VI.

GUILFORD COLLEGE, N. C., MARCH 3, 1920

NUMBER 19

GUILFORD LOSES FINAL TO A. & E. 25-32

Fast, Cleanly Played Game—Frazier Stars.

In a cleanly played game that was hotly contested from the first blast of the referee's whistle to the final note from the timekeeper the Quaker team went down to defeat before the A. & E. State College quintet by a 32-25 score. Frazier was the individual star of the game, the score showing six field goals and five free throws to his credit. The visitors' left forward, Deal, was the only man on their side who showed any playing of the stellar variety. Their whole team worked well together, though, and it was by this they won the game. Cox and Zachary played their usual consistent game for Guilford. Zachary started the game as center with Newlin shifted to guard. This position was new to the latter. In the second half, though, Zachary was shifted back to his old position as right forward and Newlin back to center. Zachary was slightly hurt in the last half and consequently was slowed up somewhat in his playing. Guilford got the start on the Farmers in the first of the game and held the lead till just before the close of the first half. The State College team gained on them so that the score stood 17-15 in A. & E.'s favor at the end of the first period. Both teams came back strong in the second half and the score see-sawed back and forth between them for some few minutes. State College, however, got in a few lucky shots that gave them a good lead, which they were able to hold to the end of the game. Their dead sure foul shooting was an important factor in the size of the score.

The Guilford student body as well as quite a large number of old students and alumni gave good support to the team. State College also had quite a number of supporters from Greensboro and the neighboring towns.

The line-up:

Senior Class Meeting.

At a called meeting of the class of '20 the following officers were elected and installed: President, Norman Fox; secretary, Frances McCracken; treasurer, Alma Chilton; marshal, Hugh Moore.

ZATASIANS GIVE ORATORICAL CONTEST

Prize Awarded to Hazel Richardson.

At Memorial Hall, on Saturday evening, February 28, the twelfth annual oratorical contest of the Zatasian Literary Society was given. The orations were especially interesting, all being on topics of present-day interest. Moreover, each girl in the contest showed herself to be familiar with the subject with which she was dealing, and also to have put much time and effort into the task of preparing her oration. The subjects were all clearly and logically worked out.

Program.

Piano Solo—Miss Rudisill.
The Public Schools of the United States—Hazel Richardson.
Southern Mountaineers — Mabel Ward.
Our Forests—Edith Harrison.
Women in Industry—Margaret Levering.
Duet—Nina Robertson, Marjorie Williams.

The society was indeed fortunate in having as judges Miss Mary Petty, S. A. Hodgkin and J. B. Moosley. Mr. Moosley in a very clever and appropriate speech presented the prize, a lovely set of Shakespeare, to Hazel Richardson.

TO HAVE WHOLE TIME PHYSICAL DIRECTOR NEXT YEAR.

President Binford announces that he has secured Miss Eleanor Pallard, a graduate of Earlham College, as physical director for the girls next year. Miss Ballard has been prominent in the athletic world at Earlham and also has received special training in gymnastics and exercises that now play such an important part in the correct physical development.

This should be good news to all the girls, as they have this year had to play and coach themselves as best they saw fit. Last year Miss Roberts took an active interest in their athletics, but there has been no one to take her place this year. Coach Doak has his hands full with the boys' athletics, so that he has not been able to give them much assistance or advice.

MISS ROBERTS TO ENTER SORBONNE UNIVERSITY IN PARIS

A recent letter from Miss Anna Roberts, who is away on leave from her position here as head of the modern language department in order that she might assist in the work of the Friends' Reconstruction Unit in France, states that her work there is practically completed. She will remain in Paris until perhaps the middle of summer, as she has been admitted into the Sorbonne University in that city, where she will do some special work in preparation for resuming her work in this country.

MYRTLE COX IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

At a recent mass meeting of the Young Women's Student Government Association the president for next year was elected. Every girl having Junior standing was eligible for a candidate. The three girls receiving the highest number of votes in the first election were: Myrtle Cox, Madge Coble and Frances Bulla. In the final election Myrtle Cox was elected president.

REV. EDGAR WILLIAMS LEADS Y. M. C. A.

Gave a Very Helpful Talk on Work.

The speaker based his remarks upon a number of texts such as "The labor is worthy of hire," and "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life." "What is the motive for work?" the speaker asked.

One motive for work is to put bread into our mouths. We work in order that we may have food, shelter and clothes. This is primarily work for ourselves.

Another motive is to gain the approval of other people and of our own conscience. We like to think that we have done a piece of work well and we like to have other people think so.

But the chief motive for work should be to help somebody else. But why work for other people? They do not thank us for it in many instances. If everybody took this selfish attitude toward work, no doctor would ever make a midnight drive, no Red Cross nurse would ever go to France, and no Christ would have ever died for us. We are dependent upon each other, so we must help each other.

The greatest motive for work is to seek the approval of God. If we have His stamp upon our work it will not be in vain. In conclusion the speaker said, "Let us work for the approval of man, of conscience and of God."

AFFAIRE DU COEUR.

College Waiters Entertain Guests.

Sunday at noon quite a commotion took place in Founders dining room, when six young ladies were escorted to the stag table. Each found her place by the place card that was standing behind her chair. Under the watchful eye of Miss Louise a dinner consisting of the following courses quickly disappeared:

non constat
ham
beans	taters a la jackets
pickles	buns
fruit a la dressing
frappe	cake
punch

The favored young ladies and their hosts were: Misses Bulla, Lewallen, E. Venable, Richardson, V. Farlow and Ellington, and Messieurs Newlin, H. White, G. McBane, Lineberry, Edw. Hollady and F. Casey.

GUILFORDIAN STAFF ENJOY BANQUET

Hour Characterized by Plenty of Eats and a Jolly Crowd.

Generally, to be a member of the Guilfordian Board means work for that person and work only. Happily, quite the reverse was true Friday night.

Immediately after the societies had adjourned the members composing the board met in the front hall at New Garden and were led by the host, David White, into the dining room. Mrs. Levering acted as hostess for the evening. While a buzz of conversation was being carried on characterized by gay laughter and witty jokes, the following menu was enjoyed:

Grapefruit Cocktail
Fried Oysters	Hot Rolls	Butter
Saratoga Chips
Pickles	Celery	Coffee
Chicken Salad		Saltines
Cream		Cake
Mints

Shields Cameron acted as toastmaster for the occasion. Mr. Cameron expressed the appreciation of the board for Mr. White's hospitality. Talks were then given in the following order: First, Mr. White assured the board of his appreciation of their help; then the editor-in-chief, Miss McBane, made a few remarks; Prof. Balderston expressed the hope he had of a bigger, better Guilfordian; Miss Louise expressed her pleasure of being present; Mr. Mills stated that he hoped we would be able to make a miniature printing office of the Guilfordian room where a course of journalism might be pursued; lastly, Mrs. Levering related an amusing anecdote.

A report of the event would not be complete without mentioning the aid rendered by Misses Neece and Chilton in the capacity of cooks and that rendered by the same two ladies and Hugh Moore as waitresses and waiter.

The board certainly is grateful to Mr. White for a friendly hour together, and by coming together on such a footing, it was able to unite in a determination to put into reality the new visions expressed by our faculty advisers who have untiringly given of their services during the past year.

ZATASIANS GIVE MISCELLANEOUS PROGRAM

At the regular meeting of the Zatasian Literary Society on Friday evening, February 27, a miscellaneous but interesting program was given. It was as follows:
