PROSPECTIVE Y. W. C. A. CHOIR

It is hoped that an organized choir will soon become an active element of the Young Women's Christian Association. The choir has not yet been organized, but is to be in the near future.

Our present plan of singing at Y. W. meetings is not bad at all, for everyone takes part, and that is well. However, there might be a little more system as to selection of songs that bear directly on the leader's subject.

The choir is to have a director who shall be chosen or elected. It shall be the duty of the members of the choir to select music for and be present at the regular meetings of the association. Members of the choir will provide special music from time to time.

It is suggested that the young men form a similar band of songsters in their association in order that the two choirs may co-operate with the music committees in furnishing special music for Sunday chapel, and for joint meetings of the associations when such are permissible.

We believe that the musical part of our meetings will be more successful and enjoyable if it is planned and led by an organized choir.

The college unites in extending an expression of sympathy to Miss Alma Edwards, because of the death of her brother, Philip Edwards. Feeling that her experience must, in a measure, be ours, we share with her a sense of personal loss. That we may follow our work in a spirit of service like that of Philip Edwards, is our prayer for ourselves, for our college and for our common state.

PHILOMATHEANS HEAR SCOTCH PROGRAM

On Friday evening, Feb. 27, the Philomatheans were entertained by the members of the last group in the contest series. The utmost interest was shown throughout the program. The numbers were well prepared, each member on the program being familiar with her part. The contest series of groups have been very successful and the programs have been well arranged and prepared by each group. To decide which group has given the best program would be a difficult task. They have all won the prize of improvement, for the programs have shown a marked development in the interest of the society at large.

Miss Nell Schoolfield in a clear and distinct manner gave the development of Scotland, the origin of the early people, and some of the legendary stories about the country. Miss Schoolfield said, "Among the factors which have played an important part in the development were the Norman conquest, Christianity and the Reformation. The Reformation was the cause of the up-building of the educational system."

The second number, "Burns, the Man," was given by Miss Annie Brown.

The third number was a pantomime, "Comin' Thru the Rye," by Miss Hope Motley.

Miss Myrtle Cox read a number of the best short poems by Burns.

"Scotch Quotations," by Miss Alta Zachary, were much enjoyed.

The last number, "My Laddie," was sung by Miss Motley.

Quite a number of old Guilfordians were here last Thursday night for the A. & E. game. Among these were J. B. Woosley, '12, Ruth Coltrane, '19, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Willard, '19, and E. B. Carroll, '17.

Gladstone Groome, Shirley N. White and Kirk Patten also came out to see the Quakers in action once more.

The Freshmen met February 11 for their regular class meeting. As this was the time for election of officers the following were elected: President, Dabney White; secretary, Clara Henley; marshal, Wray Farlow. After the business was transacted the social committee entertained the class in various ways.
