EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Lenoir Game

Last Saturday Guilford's football eleven for the second time this year matched its strength on the gridiron.

With the exception of one or two plays, our boys are to be highly commended on the fight that they put up.

The Lenoir team is far superior to their team of last year. This seems to be due to a stronger coaching staff, together with one year of experience behind them.

The Guilford squad was not only well entertained on the football field by the Lenoirans, but it was also highly entertained at a reception given by the Lenoir girls in honor of both our boys and their squad. The cordial reception which we received while on the Lutheran campus left in the heart of each of our boys a sense of appreciation which will be long remembered.

Lenoir, our student body appreciates the way in which you received our team, and we hope that we may have the opportunity and pleasure of reciprocating the hospitality with which you received our boys.

Come on, Guilford, let's give Rah! Rah! Quaker, for Lenoir: Every-body: One, two; one, two; Rah! Rah! Quaker!

The Debt We Owe

Do we as college students realize the responsibility that is ours? We are the potential leaders of tomorrow, and as such it is our duty to take advantage of every opportunity for preparing ourselves for a successful and useful life.

We are living in a great country and a wonderful age. The greatness of our country is due to the great and wise leaders who have gone before us. To them we owe a debt that can only be paid by doing our very best to advance our country and the world along the lines of progress which they have so nobly followed in the past.

Today we are in college. For what? Did you ever seriously ask yourself that question? Are you here just because you can be, or are you here for a purpose? Let us hope that each of us anticipates his or her place in the future and is preparing to fill that place even better than those who have gone before. Without progress we cannot hope to hold our place in the world. There is no standing still in the course of events; where there is no progress, deterioration must set in.

We as college people have an opportunity that great men like Lincoln longed for and never had. If we fail when less favored people have had such wonderful success, can we be held blameless? We cannot all be Lincolns, but we can at least prepare to be a success in our fields of endeavor. Let us prepare now and be ready for the future.

DEPARTMENT NOTES

Art Classes Start.

Mrs. Anscombe has 12 students at present in her art classes and a number of prospects. Almost all her old students are back and several new ones have enrolled.

Lyceum Course

The Lyceum course will begin November 11, with Marie de Kiser. Old students probably remember Miss de Kiser's delightful program last year, and will look forward to her return with pleasure.

In January, the Elizabethan Players will give "The Merchant of Venice."

Vachel Lindsay, the famous Illinois poet, will be here in February, and Gorst, a lecturer on bird life, who illustrates his discussions with imitation of the songsters' calls and trills will be here.

Uncle Joe Cannon Coming

It is reported that Uncle Joe Cannon will visit North Carolina and Guilford College this fall, and will return to Illinois over the trail used by his father, when he migrated from Guilford College.

Glee Club Meets.

The glee club meets every Tuesday night from 8 until 9 o'clock. Therefore Memorial Hall will be in use at that time.

Annual Meeting of Trustees.

The annual all-day meeting of the Board of Trustees, with the Advisory committee and the Alumni committee on Policy and Endowment, will be held on Wednesday, October 18. Plans for the $400,000 campaign will be the principal topic for discussion.

Gift of Senior Class.

The senior class is beginning the work of wiring the college buildings for the time signal system. It is hoped that the work will be completed within two weeks.

The college sincerely appreciates this much needed gift from the class of '23.

Large Education Class.

There are 85 students in education this year, a comparatively large percentage for the size of the college, including nearly 33 per cent of the student body. Guilford College enjoys a fine reputation for the worth of teachers it sends out, and the interest shown in education by the majority of students is highly commendable.

There are 35 students in psychology, an increase of about 15 above the average number.

There have been 27 applications for make-up exams.

Fewer Demotions in English.

Fewer demotions have been made in English this year as a result of more careful classification, students from three year schools not being permitted to enter courses without proper preparation.

Former Guilford Student Marries

A social event of interest to Guilford alumni is the wedding of Miss Hazel Ferree, of Asheboro, and Mr. Phil Hodgkin, of Greensboro, which took place Wednesday evening at eight o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ferree on West Sunset Avenue, Asheboro. The groom was a former Guilford student.

After a short reception, the couple departed for an extensive tour of the eastern states. They will be at home to friends, 427 Sycamore street, Greensboro, after Oct. 15.
