

SOCIETY NOTES

PHILS FEATURE
SIDNEW LANIER

A short miscellaneous program devoted chiefly to Lanier, was given by the Philomatheans on Friday evening.

The first number was an interesting and helpful talk on better English by Ruth Ragsdale. Sidney Lanier as an English teacher was then discussed by Gladys Futrell. Edith Hollowell gave a reading from Lanier and the musical number was an instrumental solo, a reverie played by Ruth Reynolds.

Under election of officers the following were elected: president, Hope Motley; secretary, Elizabeth Brooks; marshal, Annabel Thompson.

THANKSGIVING PROGRAM GIVEN BY ZAYS

The Zatasian society met last Friday evening, Dec. 1, in genuine holiday spirits to have presented to them an attractive Thanksgiving program which was both entertaining and instructive. The numbers were arranged as follows:

- I. The First Thanksgiving—Zelma Farlow
- II. Instrumental Duet—Mildred Townsend and Viola Tuttle
- IV. A Thanksgiving Poem—Geneva Highfill
- V. The Turkey and the Pilgrim—Jo Mock
- VI. The Last Thanksgiving—Elizabeth Brookshire

Due to an accident Zelma Farlow was unable to be present to give her part. Ola Nicholson, who has a well developed talent for reading and Elizabeth Brookshire, who gave an amusing and original paper, deserves especial mention. Both of these girls are new members.

CLAYS ELECT OFFICERS

At their regular meeting Friday evening the Clays elected officers for the next administration as follows: president, Dewey Crews; vice-president, Marvin Shore; secretary, Thad Mackie; assistant secretary, James Joyce; chaplain, Wade Thompson; censor, Frank Crutchfield; sergeant-at-arms, Vivian White.

The literary program for the evening included a debate on the question, "Resolved that the United States Senate should pass the soldier's bonus bill as passed by the House of Representatives." Cummings and Joyce for the negative defeated Cranford and Thornbury, the affirmative speakers.

Garvice Guthrie read a portion of Henry Watterson's oration on Lincoln, and the introduction to the Gettysburg Address.

The final number was a review of campus happenings by David Hodg-in. He introduced much local humor into this number.

The society was glad to have as a visitor one of last year's Clays, Alfred Lindley. Mr. Lindley, although now a student of a larger institution than Guilford, declared that literary society work here surpasses any he has found elsewhere.

WEBB'S DEBATE BONUS

The bonus question was before the house of the Websterians again last Friday night. Some of the new men are showing marked improvement in debating.

The question stated that the American soldiers should have a bonus. Thomas English and Wendell Cude gave a very sentimental picture of the soldiers in battle and stated that

MAGAZINES ARE MISSING

The librarian asks that the following magazines be returned to the library: American Friend, March 30, Forum, June; Forum, August; Outlook; July 19; Outlook, August 9; Independent, December 10, 1921; Independent, February 4, 1921.

The librarian wishes to confer with anyone willing to give standard weekly or monthly magazines to the library for use in back files.

it was an injustice to the men who sacrificed their time and risked their lives to pay them only one dollar a day while others of their class were at home making from eight to ten dollars a day. Joe Welborn, Kenneth Neece and Henry Tew brought out several points against the idea of a bonus. They contended that it takes away the honor of a soldier and the soldiers themselves do not want a bonus. The fact that the nation is already in debt would throw too heavy a debt on the tax payers. The judges decided in favor of the negative.

Lee Richardson gave an account of his trip to Lynchburg.

Cude, Harris and Howell were appointed on a nominating committee to bring in nominations at the next meeting for the election of officers.

FACULTY CHILDREN GO IN FOR DRAMATICS

A very entertaining little play "The Georgia Debtors" was given at Memorial Hall on Saturday, December 2, at 3:00 o'clock by the younger generation of the college. Miss Emily Virginia Levering played the roll of Sam, while Miss Martha Gray White was John. Both these young ladies were most imposing in their masculine costumes of overalls and straw hat. Lyndon White interpreted the part of Joe. The youthful actors knew their lines exceedingly well and are to be complimented for their creditable presentation of the play. An appreciative audience of college girls was present.

THANKSGIVING PARTY HELD AT STUART HOME

Miss Margeurite Stuart and her brother, Patridge Stuart entertained a number of their friends last Wednesday evening at a Thanksgiving party at the Stuart home. The reception room, with its wide fireplace, was decorated in palms, narcissus, and chrysanthemums.

The feature of the evening was a game of progressive proposals, in which, by popular vote, Albert Peele was adjudged to be the most eloquent proposer and Miss Clara Coble to have given the best answer.

"THE MAN FROM HOME" IS SEEN IN MOVIES

James Kirkwood in "The Man from Home," by Booth Tarkington, which was presented Saturday night in Memorial Hall, was recognized as one of the best movies thus far this season.

Kirkwood in the role of Mr. Pike and the guardian of Miss Genevieve, the only daughter of the rich Mr. Simpson, finally won the affection of Genevieve, who was deeply in love with a fake prince in Italy. The real King admired the truly American spirit of Kirkman.

The college orchestra furnished music for the evening.

Roy Mitchell visited at the college Sunday.
