N. C. STATE NOSES OUT AHEAD IN SECOND CLASH WITH GUILFORD BATSMEN

Quakers Out-batted in Final Mix-up With N. C. Aggies; English Stars for Guilford

The Quakers fell for the second time before the powerful baseball machine of State college on Tuesday, April 10, at Greensboro, taking the lesser part of 5-3 score. The features of the game were, the curlers of Ferrell, Guilford's moundman, and the unusual skill which the visiting infield displayed in tossing the turnip about the lot. State out-hit the Doak affair, but this was due largely to slow fielding on the part of the latter. Guilford flailed the apple five times for gains, three of which were two-sackers. Hart-sell's bunch succeeded in doubling this number.

State started the fray by marking up counters in the first frame off of two single hits and a weakness in the Quaker infield. Guilford never rallied against this initial aggression until the fifth when English swatted one that sent him to the keystone sack. In the sixth inning following this rally, Hayworth crossed the rubber, forced in by Beal, the State twirler. Guilford's two other runs came in the eighth as a result of a double by Winn and a single by English. At this juncture Beal was hoisted out of his position in favor of Allen, a south paw.

Outside of the first inning, State's hits and runs were well scattered, finishing up her final score, by the addition of one counter in the ninth.

GRADUATING STUDENTS PRESENT FIRST RECITAL

Misses Merriman and White
Appear in Varied Program

In the first graduation recital of the year Miss Lloyd Merriman and Miss White gave to the audience in Memorial hall Saturday night a strong program of classic and modern composers. The program covered a wide range of selections, including representative work from eighteenth, nineteenth, and twentieth century writers. The numbers from Bach and Beethoven formed a substantial if austere background for the remainder of the program which was in lighter vein.

Miss White played the "Bourree" from Bach's third cello suite with the perfect balance due counterpoint writing. Her correct interpretation of the severe music of this period deserves much praise. In the lighter numbers from Seeling and Goddard she displayed technic and velocity of a well trained hand. The salon music of "Moment de Caprice" and Woodham's "Nocturne" gave a brilliant touch to the program contrasting sharply with the heavier numbers of the classicists. Miss White played these numbers with elegance and feeling.

Miss Merriman's first number was three movements from Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata. She gave an appreciative interpretation of the deep harmonies of the adagio movement and a forceful presentation of the "presto agitato". This difficult movement which is a practical endurance test, seemed to present no obstacles to Miss Merriman, for she played it gracefully and smoothly. In the Chopin number which was probably the peak of the program, she played like a master. The exacting "Revolutionary Etude" found a correct interpreter in her. The famous "Sunset Meditation" and Liszt's "Dance of the Gnomes" were given with delicate color and charming technique.

"Valse Caprice" from Charles Gilbert Spross constituted the final number. This was arranged for two pianos, and required a strict sense of rhythm from both the graduates. They played it well.

The work of Miss Byrd with her music department merits much praise. The recital was without doubt the best program that the music department has given this year, and it was made possible through her efforts in training the graduates. Her selection of an artistic and well balanced program counts for much in the college entertainment.

GIRLS' TOURNAMENT IN TENNIS IS UNDER WAY

The girls' preliminary tennis tournament has begun. The first games will be played between members of the same classes. Later, those girls winning out over all their classmates will compete with the winners from other classes in an inter-class tournament.

CLASS OF '25 CLAIMS LAURELS IN ANNUAL INTER-CLASS FIELD DAY

Junior Class Takes Second Place;
Lassiter '24 and V. White
'25 Star

In the annual interclass track meet held last Thursday, the sophomores edged out over the Juniors by a two and one half point margin, the final tally being sophomores 43½, juniors, 41; freshmen, 26; special 13.

Of the twelve events, the sophomores captured five of the primal places, juniors, three; freshman, two; special, one. The juniors and sophomores divided honors for first place in pole vaulting.

Vivian White of the sophomores swiped three of the first places. One of the features of the meet was the space that he could put between himself and other "Chasers of the string." Lassiter, '24, comes next when individual honors are mentioned. He snapped up two of the premier honors, one in high jumping, and one in discus throw.

Events follow with names coming in order of place. 100-yard dash; V. White, Purvis, Tew; 220-yard dash, V. White; J. G. Frazier, F. Smith; 220 hurdle, E. M. Macon, A. White, Tew, Blair; shot put, McBane, Pringle, E. McBane; mile run, M. Shore, John Cude, A. White, Branson; discus throw; Lassiter, Been, McBane; broad jump, Been, Lassiter, Tew, A. White; pole vault, Frazier and Gray, tie; 440-yard run, V. White, Purvis, Knight, Dinkeins; 880-yard run, Dinkins, W. Cude, Connor, Thompson; mile relay; sophomores, juniors.

JUPITOR PLUVIUS LANDS HEAVILY ON SCHEDULE

"Jupe" Pluvius played quite a prominent role in Quaker sports the past week. His honor ruled out no less than three contests. Two baseball games, one with Wake Forest that was to have been played at Guilford, and one with Carolina that should have reeled off on the Chapel Hill diamond. The game with the University will probably be played on the twenty-fourth. A track meet with Trinity, scheduled for last Saturday, on the Trinity field was also rained out of existence.

The track team however, has two more frays booked, one with Elon at Guilford, April 26, one with Davidson on the Presbyterian ground, April 28. Causey announces that his team is fast rounding into shape and will in all probability make it an interesting time for the Christians and Calvinists.

Falsom Neal was the week end guest of Bertha Neal.

Mary Webb Nicholson spent the week end at her home in Greensboro. Pansy Donnell, Janie Mae Butler, Ruth Levering, Lois Rabey, Mary Fitzgerald, French Smith and Marvin Shore attended the State Sunday School convention at Winston-Ealem, Wednesday, April 11.

WEBSTERIANS ENTERTAIN PHILOMATHEAN SOCIETY

Feature of Evening" Program Is National Convention

The Websterian literary society delightfully entertained the members of the Philomathean literary society in Memorial hall, Friday evening, April 13, with their regular biennial reception.

The feature of the program was an interpretation of a National political convention presented in a local manner.

The convention which had apparently assembled for the purpose of discussing and bringing about certain reforms in the social life of Guilford college, was a delightful "take off" and very cleverly done. Special mention should be made of the impersonations of the Philomathean girls, which interpretations were particularly enjoyed.

Thomas R. English was the efficient chairman of this National committee and the representatives were as follows:

Miss Ruth Reynolds, New Garden hall, Fred C. Winn; Miss Marie Beaman, Founders, Sam Harris; Miss Sallie Wilkins, New Garden, Addison Smith, Miss Janie Mae Butler, Founders, Elton Warwick; Hersel Macon, New north section; Nereus English, Old north section; Wendell Cude, center section; James M. Diffie, Old south section; Kenneth Neese, New south section; James Howell, secretary; J. W. Frazier, wireless operator; Thomas Hadley, press reporter.

The second number of the program, a violin solo by Mr. Burge, pleased the audience very much.

Misses Helen Bostick, Nell Carroll, Marie Beaman, Edith Macon, and Margaret Armfield responded on the part of the guests to the welcome of the Websterian president, Hersel Macon.

Following the close of the formal program the meeting adjourned to the Websterian hall for a social hour. Here, delightful refreshments consisting of neapolitan cream, cake, salted almonds, coffee and mints were served.

The guests in addition to members of the Philomathean literary society were; Misses Louisa Osborne, Katherine Rick, Beatrice Byrd, Mrs. E. C. Perisho, Kate Smith, Era Lasley, Professor and Mr. L. L. White, Professor H. N. Baker, Coach R. S. Doak and Elton Hall of Wake Forest.

SOPHS ELECT TEAM TO DEBATE FRESHMEN

Russel Branson, Allison White with John Reynolds as alternate, were elected by the sophomore class to represent them in the annual freshman-sophomore debate.

These three men of the class of '25 will meet French Smith, Thomas English with Katie Cooper as alternate, of the freshman team, some time during the first week in May to debate the question, Resolved: "that Congress should provide for enforcement of the decisions of the Railroad Labor Board."

PHILADELPHIA FRIENDS STAND BEHIND GUILFORD SAYS PRESIDENT BINFORD

President Returns From Visit In North; Interviews Mr. Arnette

"Philadelphia Friends are taking up the cause of Guilford," reports President Binford after his trip to Philadelphia, New York, Worcester, Mass., Harvard, High Falls, New Bedford, Bethlehem, Virginia, Weatherly, and other places in quest of faculty for next year and in the interest of the endowment campaign.

Dr. Binford spent three days in Philadelphia, where a committee of prominent Friends, some of them old Guilfordians, was formed to present the cause of the college to the Friends of that city. This committee consisted of: Walter Haviland, chairman; President W. W. Comfort, Professor Reynard, Professor Edmund Wilson, all of Haverford; T. Edgar Snipes, of the class of '03, William Overman, William Allen, '99, John Way, and Aldred Scattergood. A statement of Guilford's needs will be sent to these Friends, who will put it out over their signatures. Private appeals will be made, though there will be no public presentation.

Several hundred thousand people were attending the Philadelphia Yearly meeting at this time. As a point of interest, the president noted that while the sessions of the meeting were about four hours long, very few of the great audience left or went to sleep. Among other business, the meeting sent a letter of appreciation to Governor Pinchott of Pennsylvania, commending his sturdy enforcement of the prohibition laws. Dr. Binford was entertained by the North Carolina club, at one of its monthly luncheons. His speech on this occasion was a toast to North Carolina.

"Guilford is making great progress in the campaign," said Mr. Trevor Arnette, secretary of the General Education board, to Dr. Binford, who visited the office of the board while in New York. Both Dr. Butterick and Mr. Arnette seemed pleased with the results of the endowment campaign thus far, believing that Guilford will certainly raise the required fund. The subscription at present is about $130,000.

Dr. Binford visited several points in New England, and was entertained at the home of Sarah Swift, a very generous Friend, who has helped out a number of Quaker schools in the past.

Dr. Binford considers his tour quite successful in regard to both campaign and faculty, though no definite statement has yet been issued as to the latter.

Luna Taylor spent the week end with Margaret Armfield at her home in Jamestown.
