

THE GUILFORDIAN

VOL. X.

GUILFORD COLLEGE, N. C. OCTOBER 3, 1923.

No. 3.

GUILFORD MEETS OVERWHELMING DEFEAT IN OPENING GRIDIRON BATTLE WITH TRINITY, 68-0

Crimson and Gray Warriors
Fight Gamely Till Last Whistle

MANY SUBSTITUTES

"Block" Smith and Capt. McBane Get Quaker Honors

Fighting against tremendous odds, Guilford went down to an honorable but overwhelming defeat before the vicious attack of the Trinity warriors, 68-0. The score does not tell how bitterly the Crimson and Gray fought back, nor how gamely they threw themselves before the merciless drives of Blue and White battlers.

Touchdowns in First Quarter

Through the first quarter, although having green material in her lineup, Guilford fought doggedly to hold off the inevitable. During this period Trinity threw her best into the game and managed to make two touchdowns over the fighting Quakers. At this point Coach Steiner, of Trinity, saw fit to make substitutions at the record rate of two a minute.

Trinity's Fresh Men

It might have been this stream of fresh material that proved disastrous to the Crimson and Gray. Battered and bruised, the tired Guilford line could not hope to hold against the drives of fresh recruits that were now pouring in from a seemingly inexhaustible supply. That the Quakers gave ground is seen by the score, and that they gave it grudgingly, and fought bitterly for every inch, is granted by all who saw the game.

Stars for Trinity

Starring for the winners were Shipp, Bullock, Lagerstedt, in the backfield, and in the line, Simpson, Carter, and Gregg. Much credit is due these men, and football mentors are confident that before the curtain drops on the 1923 season, these players will have been heard of many times.

Work of "Block" Smith

For Guilford, Charles Smith, "Block," carried of the highest honors. He is of that type which does not know when it is beaten, and which fights hardest against the greatest odds. It seems, that to him, all football players, whether they are McMillans or not, are just players. Against all he apparently plays alike, that is, his very best.

Capt. McBane, along with his entire team, should be given special credit for the plucky fight. Although meeting heavy defeat in their initial contest, they displayed undefeatable courage which is expected to do much toward making Guilford known, later on in the season.

The line-up at the start follows:

Trinity	Position	Guilford
Huckleyl.e.	Poole
Hatcherl.t.	Shore
Taylorl.g.	Herring
Simpson, captainc.	Warrick
Griggsr.g.	Harrell
Williamsr.t.	Feese
Carter, B.r.e.	Smith, C.
Smith, F.q.b.	McBane, Capt.
Lagerstedtl.h.	Woody
Boswellr.h.	English
Bullockf.b.	Lassiter

FIRE—THEN THE CAMPUS GETS INTO EARLY STIR

Fire! Fire! Fire! Was it a dream, a joke, or new method of getting the students up for breakfast? Neither. No one could think for a moment that it was a joke after seeing Professor Landis' mad dash across the campus, which caused squirrels to drop their breakfast, and scamper back into their holes.

As to its being a dream, that was a good conjecture, for truly all shade and shapes of dream children, ghosts of the wildest nightgowns were seen hopping, skipping and jumping from Founders, the cottage, and Cox hall. Their dress too, was convincing, for every country, from Honolulu to the Arctic region, was represented in that dreamy group that gathered around the White Cottage. What have they in their hands? some one asked.

A group at the left had forks, dishes, and white coats, brought with them from their late work of setting the tables. Over on the right were figures holding shoes, collars, shirts, and what not, still half asleep and wondering why they were out of bed. In the center of the tumult stood a math Professor, calm and serene, a physics book under his left arm and in his right hand a college algebra which was opened at probabilities and chance.

What in the world was all the fuss about? It was not a joke, nor dream, nor a new way to awake old students. The sum total of it all was, a lighted match came in contact with some carelessly spilled oil, causing a feeble flame to burn under the stove of Prof. L. L. White. Damage: one handful of flour, several shocked maids, more colds from undue exposure, and forty blinks of sleep.

FACULTY ADDITION HOLDS TWO HARVARD DEGREES

Milton C. Davis, who comes to Guilford this year to teach part of the German and Latin is another strong addition to the Guilford faculty. A native of Long Island, New York, he holds both Bachelor's and Master's Degrees from Harvard University and has completed the residence for Doctorate. In his three and a half years of graduate study he specialized in classical philology and is considered one of the best equipped men in Latin and Greek teaching in the South.

While a graduate student at Harvard in 1917 he first came in contact with the Society of Friends of which he has been a member since 1918. Early in 1919 Mr. Davis went to Europe to help in the reconstruction of the destroyed regions of France under the auspices of the American Friends Service Committee and remained overseas thirteen months in this work.

FIGHT 'EM, GUILFORD!

Guilford's grid warriors are going to Wake Forest Saturday. Get behind them, student body. They fought this same crowd to a standstill last year, leaving the count 0-0. What has been done, can be done.

These Quaker lads are going to have the Baptists and a good scrap in front of them. See that they have 245 students, with a faculty thrown in, and plenty of peppy yells behind them.

EACH CLASS OPEN TO FIRST YEAR STUDENTS IS INCREASED AT LEAST THIRTY PER CENT

The suddenly increased number of freshmen registered at Guilford confronts the directors of the college with a problem here-to-fore not encountered. Each class open to freshmen has increased at least thirty per cent, thereby necessitating a slight re-arrangement and division of classes. The new three-hour schedule which was installed last year, helps greatly in the adjustment. All classes except those immediately attendant to science have been reduced to a three-hour course with recitations running up to Saturday noon. This increases the actual number of classes and offers more opportunities to the students for their electives.

The preparatory department, which was officially dropped from the catalogue last year and which will, if plans are carried out, be dropped entirely from the college at the end of this year, was diminished to a small item. The present number of students who are actually taking all preparatory work numbers about fifteen. However, this number does not include those who have come to the college from high schools, whose standards do not meet the requirements of the college, and who yet have to take a prescribed subject. There are some fifteen of these.

Regardless of the fact that the number of preparatory students has decreased, there has come a large number of college students, to take their places. Last year the chemistry I class had forty students. This year the class numbers sixty-five. The history classes enrolling freshmen last year has increased from about ninety to one hundred and fifteen. The biology roll listed forty freshmen last year. This year the total has swelled to fifty-five. The physics class, which here-to-fore has been open only to sophomores and upper classmen, was opened this year to freshmen and the number has increased from sixteen to forty. The various other departments of the college show an equal increase. The numbers climbing up at a thirty per cent growth.

It is reported that there is being shown a tendency to elect scientific courses. Some students speak quite often of taking a "pre-med" course. This tendency is attributed to the brilliant prospects for those going into the medical profession.

DRAMATIC COUNCIL IS AT WORK TO CHOOSE PLAY

Mlle. Hoffman, the coach of the dramatic council, reports that the first meeting of the council took place in the Guilfordian room on last Monday night, September 24.

After discussing the types of plays suitable to present in the college it was decided to discard Shakespearean dramas for the more modern ones. Several of these have been ordered from the University of North Carolina Community Service Bureau. The members of the council voted against the ultra-modern play, but the medieval costume plays are being seriously considered. "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," by Anatole France, is an excellent example of this type.

On account of former trouble in shifting stage scenery, this year's council is working to find a good play with only one or two scene changes. If this can be done, the long waits will be eliminated from the dramatization, and the smoothness of the story will not be interrupted.

As the plays which have been ordered have not arrived, the real choosing will not begin until the latter part of this week. Mlle. Hoffman, however, has given each member of the council a play to read and criticize. The best of these will be put aside for consideration along with the new plays.

"Grumpy," "Come Out Of the Kitchen," and "Polly's First Play" are among those being considered now.

Mlle. Hoffman says that the members of the council are putting themselves wholeheartedly into their work, and as she herself is enthusiastic, Guilford may look forward to the presentation of a play which has been selected on account of its superior merits from all points of view.

HOBSON GIVES PICTURED LECTURE ON WEED EVIL

The student body of the college, together with the townspeople, enjoyed a powerful and instructive lecture on the "Tobacco Evil" by Evangelist Tilman Hobson, who is conducting a series of meetings here. Introductory to his talk Mr. Hobson related some of his experiences as a lecturer during the world war with this same topic, which he called "Over the Top for Uncle Sam." He gave this same lecture in many camps, and also in high schools and colleges.

Mr. Hobson illustrated his points by stereopticon slides, showing the deplorable results of the use of nicotine and its hold on the American people. He quoted many statistics and the leading men of the country to show the sad results—death in many cases—that grew out of this habit. One good example was that of a brass monkey run by mechanism in the show window of a large tobacco concern. It smoked cigarettes as an advertisement and a drawing card. "Pretty soon," said Mr. Hobson, "the monkey refused to function, and an expert was called

(Continued on page 2)

$240,000 MARK PASSED IN GUILFORD COLLEGE ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN

Dr. Perisho Works in Eastern Carolina and Virginia

GUILFORD CLUBS FORMED

Alamance Campaign to Be Made
At An Early Date

The Endowment Campaign for Guilford College, which was begun in Greensboro last spring, and extended to other centers, is being pushed forward by those in charge. The total amount subscribed to date is something more than $240,000 of the $375,000 which was the amount required in order to secure the $100,000 from the General Education Board.

Visits Eastern Carolina

During the months of June and July Dr. Perisho worked very diligently in the interest of the Campaign. During this time he visited several counties in Eastern Carolina and Virginia. Among the counties visited in Eastern Carolina are the following: Northampton, Bertie, Perquimans and Chowan, and in Virginia, Southampton and Nansemond. In some of these counties including Wayne and Perquimans, Guilford College Club meetings were held, at which, Dr. Perisho presented the Guilford situation to the alumni and old students, as well as other friends of the College.

Forsythe County Work

During July Dr. Perisho also helped to organize campaign work in Forsythe county. The Forsythe county campaign was officially launched at a dinner given at the Robert E. Lee Hotel in Winston-Salem. Many of the alumni and old students were present on this occasion and very enthusiastically pledged their loyal support in the work of increasing Guilford's endowment. Since that time the work has been carried on steadily in that city under the auspices of the alumni and old students. Its leaders are: Colonel William A. Blair and Mr. C. C. Smithdeal, two most loyal Guilfordians, and a great success is predicted.

Organization Work

A Guilford College Club was also organized in Davidson county during the month of August, the initial meeting being held at Lexington, N. C.

Arrangements are now being made to put on a campaign in Alamance county and also to complete the work which was begun by Dr. Perisho in Randolph and Wayne counties. Later on organization work will be done in Halifax, Hertford, Bertie, Yadkin, Surry, Stokes and Rockingham counties. It is the purpose of the College to give every alumnus and old student an opportunity to make contributions to the Endowment Campaign. The goal for North Carolina is approximately $200,000.

Letters from Philadelphia Friends tell of their plan to launch a Guilford Endowment campaign in that city during the month of October.

(Continued on page 2)