EDITORIAL

Guilford men did score at Wake Forest. Not in figures, but as good, clean sports, who fought to the last whistle with a grit and determination that even surprised Wake Forest. Wake Forest expected to defeat Guilford; Guilford had expected to be defeated by Wake Forest. The game played was not for the score; it was for the game itself. And when a contest resolves itself into a game for the sport itself, then true athletic combat is at its greatest. Wake Forest has built up, what is considered by the greater number, the strongest State football machine of the season; that Guilford should meet and be defeated by the best, has even its major advantages.

The time has come, the walrus might have said in view of the approaching quarterly exams, to begin to study.

The Virginia Robins Orchestra, which made such a creditable showing with the Glee Club last winter, will give its first public concert of the year on December 10. With the addition of the new members (the orchestra now numbers 13) the organization bids fair to become a great credit to Guilford, and one of the outstanding organizations of the year. Guilford has every reason to expect great things from the Virginia Robins and will be right proud of them when they make their formal debut on December 10.

In view of the social Saturday night, it might be said that to those who persist in being blind, the way was dark; and to those who failed to follow the beaten path of the general mob, the way was rough and beset with barbed fences, and ditches of varying depths. Such, according to general cynics, is the way of all things.

The work of the Dramatic council is now under way, and they will stage their seventh semi-annual production on December 6, in a presentation of Strong's "Three Wise Fools." They have high standards of past years to meet. The time is limited. The old difficulties of choosing a "proper" play, and casting it were met with a great degree of success. However, at this season of the game, it is a lottery. But the play is a sure fire hit, and with an able corps of directors headed by Professor Hodgins, it should be an outstanding success for the Dramatic council.

Any sophomore who has attained the required number of hours for class standing should be eligible for leads in the new play

"Three Wise Fools." Sophomore, as you know, comes from the Greek, sopho (wise) and moria (fool). There is much in a name, whatever a genial sophomore may say.

Collegiate Press Ass'n.

ences from the two points of form and spirit. According to Doctor Johnson the newspaper must give facts, while the magazine may enlarge upon the facts and search out the truth. He explained to the delegates the distinct difference between truth and fact. He also stated that newspaper writing was neither art nor literature, but that its bulk must be informative. The cardinal rule of both newspaper and magazine writing is—"Be interesting." Form and dignity may suffer in the process of creating interest, but truth must never suffer. The four points on which interest centers are: simplicity, clearness, brevity, and force. Professor Johnson said that star reporters almost invariably become good magazine writers, and vice-versa.

In closing he suggested the motto: "Speak of me as I am," for all newspaper and magazine writers.

During the whole convention of nearly three days all the delegates were made to feel at home, and no gaps were left in which no one knew what to do.

On Thursday evening the members were given an informal reception at Greensboro college, and they were entertained by amateur performers of the college girls themselves.

N. C. C. W. entertained the Association at a most delightful luncheon on Friday in the Alumni Tea House. On Friday night they were given a banquet at Greensboro college, after which the delegates went to inspect the new printing outfit of the Greensboro Daily News.

Publications represented at this convention were: The Davidsonian, The Salemite, The Tar Heel, The Carolinian, The Twig, The Davidson Magazine, The Messenger, The Archive, The Acorn, The Davenport Weekly Record, The Trinity Chronicle, Queen's Blues, Guilfordian and The Old Gold and Black.

ALUMNI NOTES

James Anderson '09 is assistant manager of the Great Western Power Company in Sacramento, California. His business address is 1024 "K" St., and his home address is 632 34th St.

During the past summer Mr. Anderson spent a month in the high Sierra Mountains hunting and fishing. This, he says, is the best place and fishing. This, he says, is the best place he has ever seen for trout fishing.

Mattie Doughton '14 is head of the department of English in the Louisiana Polytechnic Institute located in Ruston, La. This is a co-educational college under state supervision, having nine hundred students and sixty teachers.

Since Miss Doughton has been in Louisiana she has made a Syllabus of American Literature for use in the grades of the public schools of Louisiana, and has recently collected material for a book which has been published by the Federation of Woman's Clubs of North Carolina.

Miss Doughton graduated from Guilford in 1914, since which time she has done graduate work in English at Radcliffe College and has studied Voice in New England Conservatory of Music, Boston. She has also studied at the University of North Carolina from which she received the M.A. degree in 1918.

Okie Raiford '21 is teaching sixth grade work in the East Marion school, East Marion, N. C.

THE WAGGING TONGUE

By Beulah Allen

If you would be in style (that is in slang) don't let anyone hear you say "jazz" for that is an obsolete term. From "The Critograph" I clipped this bit of news—

"Syncope" is the latest addition to the vast Music Family. It is the infant brother to Classic, Ragtime and Jazz Music, other members of the family who preceded it.

Several months ago Mr. Davis head of the Meyer Davis Orchestra Organization, got the idea that the word "Jazz," which was for long used to convey the idea of modern dance music, had ceased to be expressive, and invited radio fans to supply a new word. A prize of one hundred dollars was offered to the winner of the contest.

With the aid of the more powerful radio stations in the country as well as newspapers, magazines and other periodicals, he invited radio fans to offer suggestions for a new word that would be more descriptive of the popular music of to-day. As a result more than 700,000 replies were received and out of the vast number the word "Syncope" was selected as the most fitting.

The "Lone Star State" has furnished this piece of gossip which I now pass on to you (as all true gossipers do)!

The K.K.K. has been organized in Simmons College (Texas)—not the Ku KluxKlan, but the Kampus Kids Klub, consisting of girls in Mary Francis Hall. The Klub chose the "aster" as their flower, and "Kuttin' Kute Kapers" as their motto. The officers of the club are the Kaptain, Korrespondent, Kasher, Korister, Kutup, Kutie, Klown, Komedian, Kow, Kad, Kitty, Komitee, Kartoonist.

All college students are more or less interested in the Youth Movement so it will be interesting to learn that "There is being published, in Geneva, under the auspices of European student relief, a monthly paper which has for its aim the development of mutual knowledge and understanding among students of all nations. The publication is called "Vex Studentium," and continues articles in various languages on the situations in several countries which are participating in the Youth Movement. These articles are well illustrated and, for the most part, of a distinct value.—Salemite.

LEST THIS BE TOO PROSAIC, let me add the "find," taken from the N. C. State paper.

By the shores of Cuticura,
By the sparkling Pluto Water
Lived the prophylactic Chiclet—
Danderlin, fair Chevrolet's daughter

She was loved by instant Postum,
Son of Sunkist and Victrola,
Heir apparent to the Mazda,
Of the tribe of Coco-Cola.

Through the Tanlac strolled the lovers,

Through the Shredded Wheat they wandered;

"Lovely little Wigley Chiclet,"
Were the fairy words of Postum
"Nor any Aspirin still the heart-ache.

Oh, my Prestolite desire,
Let us marry, little Djer-Kiss?"

MISS LOUISE IMPROVING SITS UP A FEW MINUTES

Miss Louise's condition is very much improved. She was strong enough to be allowed to sit up in bed for a few minutes Sunday. Physicians are confident that she will be able to return to the College for convalescence in a few weeks time.
