HENRY CLAYS DEBATE ABOLITION OF HAZING

Henceforth all Freshmen may cast off their fear of the dread Sophomores, that is if the decision in the debate held on "Resolved, that Hazing As an Institution Should be Abolished," were to be carried out. This debate proved to be the chief feature of the program in the Henry Clay Literary Society Friday night. Eugene Hire and Alden Hunt of the negative contended that Freshmen are green and that Sophomores are the best equipped instructors to lift them from the throes of ignorance. Charles Bowles and Levi Wilkins, affirmative speakers, set forth the differences between hazing and initiation and proceeded to prove hazing is not a satisfactory form of initiation.

Byron Haworth gave some helpful points on debating. He emphasized the need of authority for all statements.

We're longer satisfied to be paid what we're worth—we can't live on any such amount.

ZATASIAN NOTES

The Zatasians met Friday evening and enjoyed a short but original extemporaneous program. The disadvantages of being a senior were pointed out by Beulah Allen, while Mae Hollady did a like task for the Juniors. The difficulties and disadvantages under which the Sophomores and Freshmen work were discussed by Sudie Cox and Claudia Neal. The program ended with a snappy yell for "basketball."

WEBSTERIAN SOCIETY HAS VARIED PROGRAM

"Resolved; that, the Student council of Guilford college should be replaced by Student Government," was the query for debate by the Websterians Friday, November 6. The affirmative speakers were Robert Ayers and George Smith, who contended that the student council has proved a failure and that student government is more beneficial to the students. The negative speakers, Floyd Cox and Loyless Meluin, won the decision of the judges by contending that the student council has been a success at Guilford College and that student government has proved a failure in other schools throughout the country.

After the debate Nereus English read two selections from the works of James Whitcomb Riley, "When the Frost is on the Pumpkin," and, "The Old Swimming Hole."

Next on the program came a very interesting and humorous extemporaneous debate, "Resolved; that, malapropism is a more heinous crime against the king's English than anachronism, barring the use of alliteration." The affirmative speaker was Charles Weir while the negative was upheld by Elton Warrick.

The Society was glad to receive as new members Paul Chandler and Perry Bryant.

HAWAIIAN PROGRAM
GIVEN BY PHIL. SOCIETY

The Philomathean Literary Society gave an Hawaiian Program Friday evening.

The first number was a paper on the "Customs of Hawaii" by Lydia White. "Romance in the Hawaiian Isles" by Espie Neece portrayed the emotional side of life in the balmy islands of the Pacific. Josephine Paul very effectively gave the Hula-Hula Dance in "sure enough" costume. "Clippings from Hawaii," showing something of the daily life of the natives, were read by Gertrude Hire.

The last number consisted of Hawaiian musical selections, vocal and instrumental, by Lalah Cox, Doris Tew, Beatrice Elliot and Josephine Paul.

Two new members were received into the society: Georgia Gray and Lucy Ragsdale.

A young lady, earning her own way, complained that she had worn out six pairs of shoes in as many months. "I guess I'll get married," she said.

If the government continues to multiply restrictive laws, all business will be driven to bootleg methods of operation.

Y. M. C. A. DISCUSSES
"IDEAL GIRL FRIEND"

"The Ideal Girl" was the topic for discussion at Y. M. C. A. Thursday night. Raymond Thomas, the leader, opened the discussion with a well arranged talk on "The Ideal Girl."

He started by saying that it is impossible to find an ideal person although some girls approach idealism. Mr. Thomas said in naming the qualities of an ideal girl, "in order for a girl to be ideal she must be well balanced in all phases of life. She should be a good student and active in athletics. A girl who approaches idealism must be clean in thought and deed, thrifty, cheerful and a friend to all."

The banner for high attendance, held by Center Section for the past two weeks, was taken over by New North Section whose attendance was seventy-seven percent.

LYNCHBURG ELEVEN FINALLY WINS OVER GUILFORD IN ANNUAL MELEE same way. After a number of plays that netted very little gain Guilford held the ball on the visitor's 35-yard line. From this point a perfectly executed fake line play enabled Kimrey to make a broken field run through the entire Lynchburg team, scoring a touchdown. Guilford failed in the try for the extra point. The quarter ended with the ball on Lynchburg's 40-yard line.

In the second quarter Carpenter, of Lynchburg, ran around the end for a 25-yard gain but was tackled so hard that he lost the ball. Robertson recovered and after Kimrey had cut the last man that threatened, he carried the ball the whole length of the field for another marker. Hendrickson's perfect dropkick tied the score. In this quarter Hendrickson also tried a field goal but was unsuccessful. The Virginians then proceeded to uncork a series of long passes which netted them their third touchdown. The whistle at the half robbed the Quakers of a chance to tie the score again. Reece carried the ball to the visitor's 5-yard line.

In the last half the Virginians scored one touchdown on an intercepted pass and another by long passes. Neither team was able to make much gain through the line. Lynchburg completed six out of ten attempted forward passes while Guilford completed four out of seven.

For the visitors, McMain and Carpenter carried off the honors. But the whole line played well, however, the work of Reece at end was especially outstanding. Warrick and Parrish also put up a creditable game. Kimrey and Robertson were the ground gainers for Guilford.

The lineup and summary:

Guilford	Pos.	Lynchburg
Reece	Perry
